HARDING TO BE INVITED HERE FOR SERVICES

President Will Be Asked to Lay Cornerstone at New Sanitarium

PLAN to bring President Harding to Glendale to lay the cornerstone of the new Glendale Hospital and Sanitarium that is being built on the northeast of the city was reached yesterday at the meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, when City Councilman E. Kimlin gave a report of progress that is being made in the building of the institution and stated that the first steps have already been taken to insure the president's presence at the function.

The matter has already been taken up with Dr. Harding, the brother of the president, and Mr. Kimlin asked the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to lend their support to the movement and exercise every influence that is possible to bring about the chief executive to be in Glendale for this occasion.

Make Suggestions
Secretary of Labor, James W. Davis, was mentioned by P. J. Kimlin as one of the president's official family who is intimately acquainted with Glendale and his visit here last year and call on some of his friends. Another suggestion was that delegation be sent from Glendale to Washington to lay the request before the president in person.

It was pointed out that President Harding is expected to be in Los Angeles in July, when the three Centennial Exposition is held, when it is stated that will open the exposition, and a special effort will be made to have him come out to Glendale to lay the cornerstone of the new hospital.

Every civic agency that can possibly get in touch with the executive or with his immediate entourage will be asked to lend its assistance in the plan, and those who are behind it are sanguine that they may bring President Harding here.

Names Committee
Vice-President Hewitt, who occupied the chair, appointed a committee consisting of P. J. Hayslett, chairman, C. D. Lusby, L. H. Son, E. C. Pendroy, R. F. Kimlin, and W. E. Hewitt to initiate immediate action to bring matter to a successful conclusion, as it is realized that the time is short if the president is to be brought here before his Alaska trip.

The advertising value of the successful conclusion of it is immense advantage to this city.

Radio to Cut Crime, Asserts W. J. Burns

AN FRANCISCO, May 2.—A radio catching by radio is going to greatly reduce crime, William J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, and here on inspection trip, declared today. He announced that a new bureau of identification and information in process of organization in department will be able six weeks after request from any chief of police to have any known criminal's name, description, and identifying characteristics "on the air" or radio plants to pick up the crook.

When a crook realizes that the department can so quickly broadcast information, he is going to be twice before committing a crime, Burns said.

Though admitting that he had been on sugar juggling, Burns declined to discuss the matter.

One Dead, One Dying Result Garage Fire

CHICAGO, May 2.—Edward J. 29, was burned to death in a garage fire today, which destroyed a garage here. Both were truck drivers and because of exhaustion, decided to sleep at the garage last night. The origin of the blaze could be definitely ascertained, but theory was advanced that the had probably tossed aside a butt.

FRANCE WILL REJECT REPARATIONS OFFER OF GERMANY, BELIEF

Move to Draw United States Into Negotiations, Is Opinion in Paris

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service
PARIS, May 2.—Germany's new reparations proposals, demanding evacuation of the Ruhr, received a hostile reception in Paris. It was generally accepted as a foregone conclusion that the offer would be rejected by France.

French officials believe that Germany's prime object in formulating the new proposals was to draw the United States into the reparations negotiations. However, advisers from Washington strongly indicate that the United States will remain aloof.

France will stand pat upon the original program worked out first in Paris and then re-affirmed at Brussels. Under this plan the French and Belgians will not evacuate the Ruhr until Germany makes a reparations offer that is acceptable to the two governments. Then evacuation will be gradual, troops being withdrawn as Germany pays.

French officials declare that 30,000,000,000 gold marks (less than $7,500,000,000), is too low, although it was intimated that France would consent to $12,000,000,000. It is improbable that France will deem the German offer sufficiently satisfactory to open any negotiations with her other allies.

The German note was delivered to the foreign office at 5:30 o'clock.

Received in England
LONDON, May 2.—Berlin's new peace proposals offering the allies 30,000,000,000 gold marks in addition to what already has been paid, were received at the German embassy today. Embassy attaches said they would be decoded and presented to the British foreign office at once.

U. S. Gets Offer
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Germany's new reparations offer, embodied in a note to be submitted to Secretary of State Hughes for the information of the government, began to reach the German embassy here this afternoon.

As soon as the complete note is received and decoded, it will be taken to the state department by Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, the German ambassador.

Woman and Man Die For Slaying Officer

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Alberta, May 2.—For the first time since 1899, a woman was hanged in Canada when Mrs. Florence Lassandra was executed today for the killing of a constable. Emilio Picciariello, convicted for the same crime, also was hanged about an hour before the trap was sprung on his woman accomplice.

Last minute attempts to obtain a reprieve for the woman who, in an alleged confession yesterday, charged Picciariello with sole responsibility for the shooting of the constable, were without avail.

A special cabinet council met last night to consider the statement made public yesterday by Mrs. Lassandra's mother, but decided not to interfere with the execution.

Mr. Lomerogian, minister of justice, in announcing the decision of the council, not to interfere, referred to it as "a sad duty he had to perform."

Mrs. Lassandra and Picciariello, who employed her husband, were charged with the murder of Steve O. Lawson, constable of the Alberta provincial police. Ten shots from two guns were fired into his body.

Germany for Revenge, Says Von Hindenburg

HANOVER, Germany, May 2.—"We will get revenge, if it takes a hundred years. History repeats itself. What I wish more than anything in the world is that I might again take up arms against France."

This declaration was made today by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, commander-in-chief of the German army in war time, in a long, frank talk with Captain B. B. McMahon of the United States army, in the field marshal's home here.

McMahon, whose home is in Indianapolis, Ind., has had charge of the last detachment of the American army of occupation in Germany, and is leaving Bremen for home on the liner, George Washington. Incidentally, this is the last handful of doughboys who remained behind for "clean up work" in the Coblenz arena. With the departure of these soldiers, the United States flag is now literally "out of Europe."

CARNIVAL OF MONTHS TO BE EVENT IN CLUB

Committee In Charge of Big Affair Arranges Elaborate Program

MAYTIME and springtime is the time for brilliant pageantry and gay revelry and Glendale's May frolic is to take place Saturday, day and night, when Tuesday Afternoon club Non-Section members are to be hostesses at the clubhouse at the "Carnival of Months," which they predict will add $1000 to the club building fund.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president and chairman of ways and means of the club, is at the head of the committee arranging the affair, and her name spells success and enjoyable entertainment as club members and friends have found out at the affair she has arranged and directed during the club year.

Group Proves Active
It was her happy thought that brought about the organization of the club members who were not affiliated with any of the sections and this group of women form one of the most active groups of the club organization.

Elaborate schemes of decoration are being worked out for the carnival on Saturday. The big feature will be the booths representing each month in the year. With the assistance of professional decorators these booths are to be beautifully and brilliantly decorated and those in charge are to be costumed according to the spirit of the month they represent.

At the January booth, Mrs. Horace Moore will be in charge. This booth is to be decorated in blue and pink and the feature will be a tempting collection of gifts for children and babies.

In Charge of Booths
Mrs. C. F. Parker is chairman of the February booth, presided over by Martha Washington, who will serve cherry pie and cherry candy.

The March booth is being planned by Mrs. C. T. Jones and there delicious waffles will be served with maple syrup and coffee.

April showers will predominate at the April booth, where Mrs. H. F. McCormack will supervise the sale of articles for spring house cleaning and also an artistic collection of garden hats.

The May booth will be under the supervision of Mrs. Thomas G. Widmeyer, and there will be on sale candy, May baskets and potted plants.

Mrs. S. M. Coulter has charge of the June booth, the bride's booth, where there will be countless gifts for the bride-to-be.

Suggesting the mid-summer heat the July booth, planned by Mrs. W. E. Pelley, will feature a (Continued on page 12)

April Sets New Mark In Traffic Accidents

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Setting a new high record for the number of traffic accidents 49 people were treated in the receiving hospital during the month of April as the result of smash-ups, according to police statistics prepared yesterday. A total of 2496 cases of all kinds were treated in the receiving hospital during the month. Thirty-three accidents were reported yesterday with twenty-one injured.

Babe Ruth's Salary Check $4333 Month

NEW YORK, May 2.—"Babe" Ruth's salary, $4,333.33 a month, was revealed today, in a statement sent to the city court by the American league baseball club of New York. The reason for the statement was that the famous slugger's pay has been attached to meet a judgment against him for $390.51 for damaging an automobile owned by David Davidson of New York, in a collision.

House of David Head In Palestine, Report

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 2.—"King Ben," whiskered caliph of the House of David under investigation here, who has been missing since January, is abroad negotiating for the removal of his Israelite colony to Palestine, it was announced this afternoon by Cora Monney, one of his viceroys. The "monarch" had been variously reported as in hiding, in flight and dead.

NEW GAS DROP
DALLAS, Tex., May 2.—Gasoline prices at filling stations took another drop of 2 cents today, the new price being 18 cents per gallon. This represents a decrease of 5 cents within a week.

Glendale Motor Car Dealers Make Preparations For 'Call Of Open Road,' May 13 To 19

THE open season is on for automobiles, is the import of an announcement made today by George T. Smith, president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' Association, naming May 13 to 19 as "Call of the Open Road Week." In line with this announcement comes word that plans for a fitting observation of the week have been forwarded to automobile men throughout this section of the state, as a prelude to vacation time and an antidote to the malady "spring fever," said to be very prevalent now.

Talented speakers will broadcast "The Call of The Open Road" to the public from various radio stations; newspaper advertising columns will be employed; and merchants will cooperate with show-window displays which will further remind the motorist that California's superb boulevards have been brought up to their highest degree of perfection and put at his service; while the many seaside and mountain resorts are dressed in gala garb, ready to receive the large delegations who will escape for a while the pent-up life of city and town and restore their peace of mind by ocean or canyon.

To the aggressive automobile men goes the credit for this annual celebration which has come to be as well known in southern California as the "Tourament of Roses" and the "San Gabriel Mission Play." Thousands who otherwise would never have ventured far afield, have piled their families into their cars, be they ancient or modern, and have clambered back of the steering wheel, stepped on the gas, in answer to "The Call of The Open Road"—learning thereby a love for the glorious outdoor life of California that only personal experience can give.

"California is the greatest touring state in America," says President Smith of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' Association, "and the touring season is at hand. What is the answer? Be she ever so humble, grease up that old bus of yours—or buy a new one, if you can afford to—and get out into the country. Tourists come from all over the world to see what is right at your very doors. 'The Call of The Open Road' is a personal invitation to be happy amid the unsurpassed wonders of California."

SESPE PROVIDES SOME GOOD SPORT

Glendale Fishermen Secure Limit Soon After Sun Starts to Working

Silvery trout versus Glendale anglers was the outdoor sport initiated early this week up along the Sespe river, seven or more miles north of Fillmore.

Armed with line and tackle, not to mention bait and a fishing license, parties of Glendale fishermen set out early Monday to get the "limit" in the blue waters of the Sespe.

Trouthy speaking, the banks of the Sespe were lined with anglers, among whom were Jesse E. Smith, J. M. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown and family, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Westphal and Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Stone from Glendale.

It Sounds Good
As spokesman of the fishermen, Jesse Smith reports ideal weather, wonderful country, a hike along the river bank by moonlight, and the "limit" of trout for everyone.

The unsuspecting trout he reports as being all the way from five to ten inches in length and in sufficient quantities to satisfy those fond of fishing.

The only "fishy" report from up around the Sespe country, according to Mr. Smith, is the rumor that Glendale was brought into the limelight by Dr. Stone, who threw himself open to the harsh rulings of the game warden by his day's catch of one trout and that undersize; also by failing to sign his license card.

Mr. Smith and Mrs. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Westphal and Dr. and Mrs. Stone returned home yesterday, while the Keen and Brown families are spending the week on the banks of the Sespe.

Bathtub Stolen From Home in Eagle Rock

"I've often heard of a person taking a bath," exclaimed Lieut. Joe Griffin this morning at the police station, "but here is the first time I ever heard of anyone taking a bathtub."

R. K. Collins of 416 East Broadway yesterday reported the theft over the week-end of a roll of galvanized screen wire and a Conrad bathtub from a house under construction at 1269 East Eagle avenue, Eagle Rock.

"Maybe," added the "loot," cogitating, "they will bring it back when they are through with it."

FIGHT RUM RUNNERS
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Assignment of fast guard cutters to New York harbor to prevent the landing of liquor from the rum fleet hovering outside the three-mile limit was announced this afternoon by the treasury department.

I. W. W. PLOT FAILS
LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Asserted efforts of the I. W. W. to bring about strike conditions among oil workers of the Southland have failed, and a plot to tie up shipping along the waterfront has collapsed, it was apparently certain today.

FATHERS AND SONS MEET AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Close to 500 Present at Gathering; Music, Talks, Dinner on Program

NEARLY 500 men and young men gathered around the festive board last night, at the Central Christian church, the occasion being the fourth annual "Father and Son" banquet, given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., with Secretary Rex C. Kelley in charge.

A delegation of about twenty members of the Kiwanis club, with Dr. John Anderson as the guiding spirit, sat at a special table with a number of boys as their guests. Another table had been reserved by the Kiwanians, at which they planned to seat the forty or more boys of the Strickland Home, of Annandale—both the appearance of illness in the home made it impossible for any representatives to be present.

The meeting was opened with a brief invocation by Arlin McCormick, after which the Kiwanis club sang "Kiwanis," led by Dr. Anderson. A melange of stent songs was then put on by Merle Waterman, boys' secretary from the Long Beach Y, at the piano, and Sam Sutherland, boys' secretary from the Pasadena Y, as leader.

Harmony Present
Merle Waterman gave his amusing "Piano" and as an encore an old negro folk song, "All Us Chills," both of which were enthusiastically received.

Then came the musical hit of the evening, a stringed trio consisting of the Hawaiian boy, Chong Kong, of Fullerton, on the steel guitar; Archie Raitt, on the flutist, second guitar; and Merle Waterman, of Pasadena, banjo-ukulele.

The trio played Hawaiian and American music, Chong demonstrating that he is the equal of nearly any Hawaiian guitar player who has ever come to the United States. He was admirably supported by Waterman and Raitt.

Give Short Talks
David Black, chairman of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., then introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Theodore Haig, president of the Glendale Hi-Y, who then took charge of the meeting.

Jack Swearingen, of the Notchers' club, then delivered a short talk on "Our Dads," pointing out that without dads, the boys would be lost in a world of radio sets, electric motors, books, scientific magazines, trips to the movies and such pleasures would come from.

Question Students in Boy's Mystery Death

CHICAGO, May 2.—President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university, members of the 1921 sophomore and freshman classes and former companions of Leigh Mount will be called today in a question into the death of the unfortunate youth, whose body, weighted with debris, was found Monday night under a pier at Evanston. Indications are Mount was slain by a group of sophomores who were hazing freshmen, of whom Mount was one, when he vanished in September, 1921.

"I have been told the president of the university is not interested in this investigation," said Coroner Wolff in announcing names of witnesses. "He will be today. He is a witness."

Much importance is being attached to the discovery of a knife found in the cairn from which the body was taken. Efforts will be made to identify it.

It was generally accepted today that young Mount was a victim of drowning. Ducking freshmen in the lake was a favorite method of torture among sophomores who were hazing freshmen at the time according to students.

U. S. FLYERS START ON NON-STOP TRIP ACROSS CONTINENT

Leave N. Y. Field Today, Expect to Dine in San Diego Tomorrow

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 2.—The monoplane T. 2 hopped off here on its transcontinental flight at 1:37 o'clock this afternoon. It carried Lieutenants John A. Macready and Oakley G. Kelly. The flyers expect to be in San Diego, Cal., tomorrow evening.

The weather was clear. Clouds were at a 3,500 foot elevation. Weather conditions throughout the United States were favorable, according to an official report.

The machine, the Fokker type, raised slowly and left the ground near the middle of Curtis field. As it neared the hangars of Curtis field, the big monoplane was so low that to the assembled spectators it seemed as if the machine could not clear them. The crowd feared a crash and some of the spectators dashed to one side.

It was officially announced that the time of the get-away was 1:37. Lieutenant Kelly was at the wheel. The machine, after traveling about two-thirds of a mile on the ground, raised and then Kelly shot it into the sky. The machine traveled west by southwest.

The fliers expect to have their dinner in San Diego tomorrow evening. They have accepted an invitation extended to them by the American Legion of that city.

"I think we'll make the trip without accident. It surely looks good to me," said Macready. Besides gasoline and food, the plane carries thirty-two gallons of oil and twenty-five gallons of water. The weight of the plane with the pilots is 10,550 pounds.

The fliers expected to cover the 2,600 miles in thirty hours at an average rate of nearly ninety miles an hour.

After passing over Staten Island the big army plane turned its nose toward Pittsburgh. The route planned included Dayton, St. Louis, Woodward, Texas, Tucumcari, N. M., and Phoenix, Ariz.

By dusk tonight the fliers expect to be somewhere near Dayton, and at that time Macready and Kelly at the wheel. At midnight Kelly will resume control of the flight.

Thereafter the pilots will alternate until they reach their destination.

Lieutenant Macready, however, will have the honor of bringing the plane down at San Diego.

Evacuation of Ruhr Is Germany's Demand

BERLIN, May 2.—Germany's new reparations proposals, which are being delivered today to the United States, England, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan, demands that all German territory "occupied in excess of the Versailles treaty stipulations shall be evacuated." This is an effort to get the French and Belgians out of the Ruhr.

German officials said passive resistance against French occupation of the Ruhr would continue "until the areas occupied in excess of the Versailles treaty are restored to Germany, under a Rhineland agreement." They declared former conditions must be restored in the Rhineland to aid German back to prosperity.

The German government proposed an agreement pledging France and Germany to arbitrate all future disputes according to arbitration treaties proposed and drawn up by William Jennings Bryan while he was American secretary of state.

In addition to requesting evacuation of the Ruhr, the German offer demands that all arrested Germans be freed and that Germans who were exiled by the French be returned to their homes.

CRAYER WINS RE-ELECTION AS MAYOR OF L. A.

Goes Over at Primary; 10th District Names Frederick for Congress

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Mayor George E. Crayer has been re-elected by a majority of almost four to one, and Captain John D. Fredericks will serve as congressman from the tenth California district. This was the outcome of yesterday's election, according to the best returns available today.

The People's Motor Bus appeal, backed by William G. McAtee, and asking for a twenty-one-year lease to operate double deck busses throughout the city, has apparently been defeated, though not by a large majority.

Another proposition, permitting the public utilities board to grant bus permits was also beaten, according to figures compiled this morning. Earlier returns had indicated that this proposition had carried.

The election of Captain Fredericks was declared to be an endorsement by local voters to President Harding's plan for a world court, as throughout his campaign Captain Fredericks emphasized continuously that he would support such a measure.

Wins at Primary
By capturing 70 per cent of the entire vote cast Mayor Crayer set a new precedent in primary elections in Los Angeles and was swept into office by yesterday's vote. The election was supposed to be a primary with only nomination as the result, but the mayor's overwhelming majority gives him the election.

The county bond issues, the first for $5,000,000 for additions to County Hospital, farm and sanatorium, and the second for $2,000,000 for a new Hall of Justice, were carried overwhelmingly, the returns indicate.

Harding Pleased
WASHINGTON, May 2.—President Harding today was gratified today when informed by Harry Chandler, Los Angeles editor, that John D. Fredericks, after stressing in his campaign American adherence to the world court, was elected to succeed the late Henry Z. Osborne in congress from the Tenth California district.

"Final counting of the votes will show Fredericks a victor by two to one, Chandler told the president. This was the first election in which a candidate had made his principal fight on the world court issue, and the result was particularly pleasing to the executive, according to Chandler.

Here's Way Glendale Voted on Two Bond Issues

Five hundred and fourteen Glendale voters yesterday voted their opinions upon the expenditure of $7,000,000 by the county of Los Angeles.

For the expenditure of $5,000,000 for additional buildings at the county hospital and county farm there were 389 affirmative votes and 117 negative votes. The ratio was greater than three to one.

For the expenditure of $2,000,000 for an addition to the county jail there were 371 affirmative votes and 133 negative votes. The ratio was slightly less than three to one.

The ten local precincts polled the following vote:
1321 East Colorado street—No. 1, yes 28, no 5; No. 2, yes 26, no 7; total vote, 34.
1457—East California avenue—No. 1, yes 25, no 3; No. 2, yes 35, no 4; total vote, 29.
801—East Wilson avenue—No. 1, yes 51, no 17; No. 2, yes 54, no 16; total vote, 70.
600—East Doran street—No. 1, yes 57, no 21; No. 2, yes 51, no 27; total vote, 78.
611—North Central avenue—No. 1, yes 52, no 20; No. 2, yes 53, no 19; total vote, 73.
1320—Glenwood road—No. 1, yes 15, no 9; No. 2, yes 16, no 8; total vote, 25.
229—South Pacific avenue—No. 1, yes 40, no 18; No. 2, yes 26, no 21; total vote, 59.
315—West Cerritos avenue—No. 1, yes 28, no 7; No. 2, yes 27, no 8; total vote, 36.
1004—South Brand boulevard—No. 1, yes 56, no 11; No. 2, yes 51, no 14; total vote, 57.
518—East Windsor road—No. 1, yes 37, no 6; No. 2, yes 32, no 9; total vote, 43.

POLICEMAN ACCUSED
LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Policeman H. L. Gardner, for eight years a member of the Los Angeles police force, today was arrested by Police Sergeant F. S. Stevens for violation of the Wright act. Officer Gardner was arrested, Sergeant Stevens claiming after he had sold another officer a pint of whiskey for $6.

Daily HEALTH-AGAIN TALKS

By Dr. Otey

HOW DO YOU PUT HEALTH INTO A DISEASED BODY?

A diseased body needs something done to it, not something put into it.

We do not find health in medicines, drugs, vivisections, venesections, vaccinations, antitoxins, serums and interminable experiments with poisons and the knife. The principles of Osteopathy are readily understood by the laity when intelligently presented in a manner free from technical terms. The average layman has no difficulty in understanding how his telephone may become useless because wires are disturbed or because of wrong conditions in the central office, also that his electric lights may fail to work because of lack of power production at the power house. The municipal water supply and the city sewer system furnish similar problems to those found in the circulation and elimination in the human body.

One of the chief functions of Osteopathy is to correct structures so that the vital fluids and forces of the body, blood, lymph and nerve currents, may be unimpeded in their free flow to and from every part of the body. To do this, we must get every muscle relaxed, every ligament pliable, every joint freely movable and every bone and other structure in its proper place.

Mrs. Dolores Sanderson of East Acacia avenue returned Sunday from a two months' visit to Oregon and Washington. Most of her time was spent in Seattle, where she was the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Heller.

Mrs. H. E. Noble of 327 North Jackson street received a message yesterday afternoon from Mr. Noble at Santa Fe Springs that the Sheriff, Noble Oil Syndicate had brought in well producing from 6,000 to 10,000 barrels of oil per day.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Fanning and son, Irving, Jr., of San Diego returned yesterday from their home in the southern city after having spent several days visiting at the home of Mrs. Fanning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Russell of North Central avenue.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Easterly of 545 North Adams street has been under quarantine for about three weeks on account of their children, John, Anna Mae and Selma, having the measles. They will not be able to return to school until week after next.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schuyler and sons Ernest and Hoyt of 330 Ivy street, and Thurston Harshman of Los Angeles motored to San Diego over the week end. They were guests of the F. R. Frazee family and upon their return they were accompanied by Miss Lois Schuyler, who had been spending two weeks with the Frazees. They returned Sunday by the inland route and report that the country is beautiful.

Would Nationalize British Industry

Philip Snowden, leader of the "Intellectual" group in the British Labor party in parliament, has created a sensation in England by introducing a bill for the nationalization of British industry. A confirmed socialist and disbeliever in capitalism, he asserts it will be several generations before socialism will rule the world.

MONTROSE C. OF C. PLANS TO BOOST MONTROSE

Will Sell Valuable Lot and Use Money for Advertising

The Montrose Chamber of Commerce held its monthly meeting last night in the Montrose State Bank.

After considerable discussion, it was decided to sell the lot about 200 feet north of Honolulu avenue on the east side of Montrose boulevard and to put the revenue into the general fund with the anticipation of spending most of it to boost Montrose. It was thought that this would be better than going in debt to build upon the property. The point was brought out that the new three-room school house, which is to be built between Florence, Mira Vista, Orangedale and Ocean View avenues, will have an assembly room where public meetings may be held.

The question of exchanging the property for stock in a company to be organized to establish a moving picture theatre was brought up by Theo. Balleger of Montrose and Frank Harding of Long Beach. They stated they intended to locate a moving picture house in the vicinity and would just as soon place it upon this lot as elsewhere.

Mark S. Collins called attention to the fact that the Chamber of Commerce, being a non-profit making organization, could not take stock in a commercial enterprise. He suggested that the lot should be sold in the open market.

The opportunity of getting the gas main from Flintridge extended westward along the highway to supply Montrose is not very promising, according to a report by Horace P. Alden. He stated that he had investigated the subject and that the plan did not seem feasible.

James L. Brown, president of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce, presided. About fifty residents of the Verdugo valley attended the meeting.

Recover Relics From Nevada Gold Mines

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., May 2.—The kettles in which "big French" John boiled his beans and the hobnails from "Sandy" Bowers' brogues are among the relics of the Comstock being gleaned daily by powerful magnets from ore that was once the shallow soil of the '59 camp of Slippery Gulch.

From the historic spot on which these two and scores of other famous Nevada characters rose from poverty to riches at the stroke of a pick or the roll of a miner's cradle the huge stamp mill of the United Comstock Mines Company now grinds out the gold daily trod upon.

With the undermining of the ground on which Mark Twain published his Virginia City Enterprise and Dan DeQuille wrote his anecdotes of western mining camps, horseshoes, nails, tin cans, stove lids, anvils and the metal whinnies of the '60s fall into ore cars and are carried to the mill at American Flat.

In order to perfect the machinery powerful magnets sift the metal from the ore.

The gathering scrap heap looks a little rusty, but there is an air of romance about it. The tide of humanity that flowed past Slippery Gulch laid the foundations of the wealth that helped build San Francisco, and the same tide of gold and silver floated Nevada into the Union.

A SOCIAL EVENT

Talks to Section
A travelogue of experiences abroad last summer and a sketch of her attendance at the Passion Play at Oberammergau were given in a most interesting manner by Mrs. J. Herbert Smith yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the home of Mrs. Frank Ayars at 315 North Orange street.

Mrs. Ayars was assisted in receiving by Mesdames Homer Lockwood and Eugene Gilliland. Section members responded to the roll call with spring quotations, and before Mrs. Smith's talk a most enjoyable musical program was given.

Mrs. Elizabeth Straith-Miller accompanied by Miss Gertrude Cleophas, sang beautifully two spring songs, and later "Ave Maria." For the last song Miss Lalla Sage of Los Angeles played a violin obligato.

Readings were given by Miss Marie Gray of the Cavanah studios.

Section to Dance
Plans for a dancing party for their husbands and guests Tuesday night, June 19, were made yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Maids' and Young Matrons' Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse.

Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, president, presided over the business hour. A final report on the flat silver purchased by the section for the club, showed that the payments were complete.

During the meeting a nominating committee was appointed to select a new curator for the coming year.

Entertainment was given by Mesdames A. M. Draper and Helen Graham Cole, vocalists, and by Miss Mabel E. Carrow of the Cavanah studios, who with two of her pupils, Edward Radke and John McBoyle, demonstrated the Dunning system of teaching children piano.

Study Class Meets
Mrs. D. T. Keim of 342 West California avenue was hostess Monday evening to the members of the Systematic Bible Study class, of which Miss Lilly Woods is teacher.

There were twenty-six members present and a very pleasant and profitable evening was enjoyed in the study of the Book of Revelations.

This is an interdenominational study class and any desiring to join are most cordially invited to do so. The class meets every Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Guests at Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lee of 345 North Belmont street entertained last Monday evening with a dinner party complimenting Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Baxter of Seattle, Wash. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lee, Mrs. Jennie Steele and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miltenberger. Mr. and Mrs. Baxter have been wintering in Southern California and returned to their home yesterday.

Large Attendance
A joint meeting of the Sons of Veterans and Auxiliary was held last night, at 8 o'clock, in the American Legion hall, with a large attendance.

The Past Commanders' club, of Los Angeles, put on the work, states Mrs. Lula P. Paugh, president of the Auxiliary.

An entertainment was part of the interesting program, and later refreshments were served.

Bible Students
"A Miracle in Stone" was the subject of the Biblical talk given Monday at the meeting of the Bible Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse. Mrs. Johnson, teacher of the section, was the speaker.

The final meeting of the section for the year will be held Monday, May 28, in the tea room at the clubhouse.

W. C. T. U. Hostess
Mrs. Henry Nicolaus of 357 West Doran street is to be hostess Friday afternoon at the meeting of the local W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, president, announces that the meeting will be held at 2 o'clock and that the subjects to be discussed will be "Songs and Sparks from the County Convention" and "Plans for State Work."

All Day Meeting
The Aid Society of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church will hold an all day meeting Thursday, May 3, in the basement rooms of the church. Mrs. L. P. Drake, and the Misses Drake will preside as hostesses for the day. Luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. John W. Cotton, president, who has moved to Eagle Rock, is planning to be present.

Picnic Outing
Glendaleans who came from either Arkansas or New Jersey will be interested to learn that former residents of these two states will hold their annual picnic Saturday, May 5, in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles.

Gather Tonight
Dr. W. C. Mabry, commander of the local Spanish War veterans' organization, announced this morning that there will be joint meetings of the veterans and auxiliary tonight at 8 o'clock in the K. of P. hall.

Circle to Meet
The weekly supper and Bible study of the Glendale Christian Circle Club will take place Thursday evening at 5:45 o'clock in the Central Christian church. All young women of high school age are cordially invited to attend.

LABOR DEARTH IN U. S. MAY BE AID

More Equalized Distribution Of Population Is Urged To Relieve Condition

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, May 2.—America's labor shortage may prove a part solution of England's unemployment problem.

The British government is investigating labor conditions in the United States, particularly with regard to a shortage of skilled labor, the Ministry of Labor has informed International News Service.

It is not likely that the British government will take any official action to encourage England's unemployed to migrate to the United States, but the minister of labor undoubtedly will make known the results of its inquiries to those who may be interested and who see emigration as the solution of their problem.

Schwab Offers Solution
When Charles Schwab was in London recently he said that he was greatly impressed by the pitiful conditions brought about by unemployment, but he suggested that the United States and its industries undoubtedly could absorb a portion of the unemployed of England. The steel magnate stated that in his own industries there was an appreciable shortage of skilled labor, and he felt that some of England's unemployed might find work if they were able to finance the trip to the United States.

While the number of unemployed in England fluctuates from month to month, it has remained sufficiently near to the two-million mark to convince many experts that there can be no solution of the problem unless there is a more even distribution of the population. Either the people must leave the city centers and go to the country districts or to the colonies, or there must be continual unemployment. With this in mind the government has taken many steps to equalize distribution of population.

Won't Go to Country
Efforts to hire city dwellers for country and suburban employment have not been very successful, for the city dwellers are disinclined to leave their city homes and the surroundings to which they have become accustomed today.

A similar fate was met by efforts to induce emigration to the colonies. While the government puts up a loud cry that the colonies are in need of settlers, the emigration to the colonies has been very small.

Negotiations are now in progress between the British Ministry of Labor and the French Ministry of Devastated Areas in an effort to obtain work in the rebuilding of the devastated areas for unemployed British workmen. The success of these negotiations is still in doubt.

Labor Unions Object Efforts which the government has made to produce a more even distribution of labor have been somewhat hampered by the attitude of labor organizations, so of which maintain that there is no necessity for emigration if conditions in England are restored normal.

The British emigration to United States has been comparatively light this year, and March 1 England was still near 30,000 below her permitted quota under the immigration laws.

It appears that the "tight little" is still home to the English workman, whether he is employed or not, and if he can't find employment in England he would rather suffer discomforts than migrate—and particularly to "dry" land.

Unemployment for years has come to be a certainty in England.

Chain Hotels Plan To Install Chapels
NEW YORK, May 2.—Chapels for silent meditation and prayer for guests, visitors and employees will be installed in all hotels known as the Brown group, John McE. Bowman, proprietor of the Biltmore, Commodore and Belmont hotels throughout the country, has announced.

The chapels will be non-sectarian. It is planned to keep them open day and night. The altars will be constantly replenished with fresh flowers. A beautiful stained-glass window, suggesting an air of holiness, will be of the features.

A company already has been employed to design chapels of different sizes, in accordance with the need of each hotel.

GOVERNOR SIGNS WELLER MEASURE

Senate Passes Amendments To Glendale Charter
O. K'd by Voters

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff SACRAMENTO, May 2.—Assembly bill 283 by Assemblyman Frank G. Weller of Glendale, providing for the acceptance of the terms of the Sheppard-Towner maternity act, was signed by the governor during the last twenty-four hour period, also Weller's bill 120, providing for constables and marshals' fees. The maternity education measure was introduced at request of Eagle Rock club women.

The senate also passed the charter amendments to the city of Glendale, which makes them effective. Last night the assembly adopted a rule limiting debate to five minutes.

Today the principal fight will be over Assemblyman Dozier's proposal to do away with the teachers' tenure act. The doctor has stirred up a hornet's nest, it would appear in the lobbies.

The assembly yesterday defeated the three-fourths jury verdict constitutional amendment, 45 to 29.

Budget in Senate
Another chapter will be written in the history of the budget battle of 1923, California edition.
The senate now has that object of mendment, the assembly having done everything it could to embarrass Governor Richardson and make useless his recommendations.

However, it was necessary for the members favoring the administration to vote for the mutilated measures, individually expressing their opinion that the governor should revise the various figures he sees fit. Of course, he will do so.

Few changes by the senate are probable, for the legislature is now working against time. The assembly had all of the fun, it would seem, while the senate did its work methodically. Now the lower house is paying the penalty by working day and night.

Considerable excitement preceded during the discussion of the three-fourths jury verdict amendment which was sent to the assembly for ratification. It is Senator Gates' measure and supported by the Los Angeles Crime Commission.

"Hysterical Los Angeles" Assemblyman Henry Carter declared it was opposed only by criminal lawyers and Assemblyman William Hornblower retaliated that "hysterical Los Angeles people want to upset our jury system." At the same time it is announced that Hornblower is going to move to Los Angeles soon, perhaps this is another forward step on the part of radical labor leaders to disturb our peaceable citizens.

The senate also had a hot debate yesterday over Senator Den-ett's bill to allow children two hours out of each week from their school time to attend religious schools. Senator A. Burlingame Johnson and Senator Ed Sample of San Diego spoke fervently for the measure, but it was defeated.

British Beauty Seeks Divorce

Lady Alexander

By Central Press.

LONDON, May 2.—Life in society here is becoming just one scandal after another and the "uppercrust" has become so used to domestic upheavals that only the spiciest provoke more than a bored yawn.

Society here, titled and otherwise, took more than a passing interest in the revelations brought out during the trial of the famous Russell divorce case.

And within the last few months
there have been others, some sensational, some not so sensational, and too numerous to mention.

The latest case to shock the lords and ladies out of their social lethargy is that of Lady Alexander.

Now there is nothing particularly sensational about Lady Alexander's divorce petition charges, but—

She is regarded as one of the reigning beauties of the British capital and as such her marital difficulties are interesting to her social conferees.

More or less secrecy surrounds the charges on which Lady Alexander is seeking her divorce from her husband, Major Sir Lionel Alexander.

The news that the marital barque of the Alexanders had run afoul of an uncharted reef in the sea of domestic felicity came somewhat as a surprise.

And the secrecy attending it somewhat as a disappointment.
So now all the society highfliers can do is wait for the trial of the case to develop the details.

SECRETARY SUES ALICE ROBERTSON

Alleges Former Congresswoman Said He Sold Her Auto, Kept Money

By DOUGLAS G. TINSLEY

For International News Service

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 2.—

The trials and tribulations of the only man who ever served in the capacity of secretary to a woman member of congress in American history are to form an interesting chapter to the already interesting life of the national capital, judging from the preparations that are being made to produce evidence in support of Ben F. Cook's suit for $25,000 damages, for alleged slander, against Miss Alice Robertson, who retired as one of Oklahoma's representatives in congress March 4.

The suit, which was filed in Washington recently, grows out of the alleged charge by Miss Robertson that Cook, while her secretary, sold her automobile and appropriated the funds for his own use.

Behind the suit, friends of Cook say, is an interesting story of a disagreement that existed between the secretary and Miss Robertson many months before Miss Robertson was retired from congress by the voters of Oklahoma. The disagreement was over financial matters, it is claimed, Cook claiming that Miss Robertson had not paid him the salary which she had agreed to pay. There were numerous attempts on Cook's part, according to his Muskogee friends, to adjudicate the matter, which failed.

Admits Selling Car

Cook admits selling Miss Robertson's car, but claims he had her authority to do so. Upon receiving an offer for the machine, he claims, he advised Miss Robertson at Portland, Ore., where she was visiting, of the offer and she telegraphed her acceptance.
Cook says the car was sold for $382.50, which Cook says he deposited in the bank to his own credit and gave Miss Robertson credit for that amount on an indebtedness he says she owed him.
The former secretary claims he will prove that the former congresswoman accused him of selling the car without her authority and with embezzling the proceeds of the sale. He also charges that Miss Robertson promised him $250 a month salary, although for expediency's sake and with the full knowledge and consent of Miss Robertson he says he certified his name on the government payroll for $203.33 a month.

Salary Short, He Says

The balance, he claims, was never settled, although he frequently attempted an adjustment, and he also paid some of her personal accounts and office expenses from his own purse. On Miss Robertson's trips to Muskogee in the summer of 1922, Cook says, he loaned her $100 when he alleges she pleaded: "Ben, I'm broke; can't you let me have $100 to get back home?"

Following Miss Robertson's return to Muskogee, Cook says, he wrote her suggesting that each appoint an arbitrator, the two to name a third who should hear his story and Miss Robertson's story for the purpose of rendering a

LARYNX RULES IN LIFE, IS CLAIMED

Most Contracts Made Orally, Teacher Says, Stressing Vocal Importance

By HAROLD D. ROBINSON

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 2.—

A man's larynx, not his heart or mind, rules his life.

This is the theory upon which Mrs. Carrol Carr, Indianapolis specialist in vocal training, is urging the wide adoption of a system of voice development which she has evolved after years of research.

"The little larynx, with its sway over the voice, in many respects wields a mightier influence in human affairs than the brain or biceps," Mrs. Carr contended, in describing her work to International News Service.

Voice Is Important

"The vast majority of the contacts between people, whether business, social or personal, are vocal contacts," she explained.
"The success of these contacts depends, therefore, upon the voice, and the value of a trained voice is at once apparent."

"The chief outlet for thought except in the isolated case of writers, is the voice," she continued. "An unusual brain may flow or unknown behind a mute mouth, but a trained tongue has raised many a mediocre mentality to eminence."

As most public and personal troubles arise from misunderstandings, and as many of these misunderstandings result from faulty vocal contacts, the troubles of a country could be reduced by vocal training, Mrs. Carr suggested.

Should Be Taught

"Voice development should be given a place as a major study in all schools," she maintained.
"Children should begin to learn the use of their voices when they learn their A B C's. They should be taught breathing, diction, knowledge of time and rhythm, an understanding of the value of vowels and consonants and mental and physical poise in speaking as an essential part of their equipment for life."

Mrs. Carr's system provided for the development of the vocal forces of young America through training in singing. Her work in this direction has been declared "unique" and "far reaching" by Indiana musical authorities.

Slow flapping of a butterfly's wing produces no sound, but when the movements are rapid a noise is produced that increases in shrillness with the number of vibrations.

Billiards have been played since the reign of Elizabeth in England.

Judgment on the financial disagreement which Cook alleges to have been the difficulty between the two, Miss Robertson replied, he says, that she would discuss the matter with him on her return to Washington, but that she never did. Cook attempted to obtain an agreement with her, he says, the day she retired from congress.
Walking out of her offices, he declared she snapped him off with:
"No, I don't want to be bothered with you; you've made my life miserable."

HUGE TENT WILL HOUSE EXHIBITS

Final Plans for Merchants' Exposition Will Be Complete Shortly

Preparations for staging the Merchants' Industrial Exposition here from May 25 to June 3 have entered on their final stage, and the date for the erection of the mammoth tent that is to house the exposition has been set for May 15th, when the various exhibitors will start arranging their displays to the best advantage in the spaces they have rented. The exhibitors, according to H. L.
Leavitt, director general of the project, are planning to offer prizes for the best decorated booths, and the decorators are expected to turn out some of the most striking results ever obtained in an affair of this kind.
The bill posters are now engaged in covering the country for a fifty-mile radius from Glendale with the posters that have been prepared, and additional lines of publicity will be undertaken shortly.

The committees representing the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and the Glendale Credit association have been working steadily to insure that everything will be complete and in readiness when the time comes for the opening of the exposition, and the hard work of the past four months will, it is predicted, be crowned with a success in which everyone who has had any share in the work may take pride.

The work of laying out the grounds will start within a few days and the main entrance to the exposition will be at the corner of Brand and Lexington, just under the electric sign that has already been erected.

Will Give Prizes

It is announced that the doors will open daily at 2 p. m., which will give the women an opportunity to study at their leisure the various industrial exhibits and to fill their baskets with the samples of the many articles that will be given away, while the evening will be devoted to the larger crowds that are expected to fill the exposition grounds to capacity. The general admission has been placed at 25 cents, and two wrist watches will be given away to the man and woman holding the lucky numbers. On the night of June 2 a Ford touring car will be given away, and on the last night someone will draw a Maxwell touring car.

One of the big attractions that has been booked for the exposition is the Elks band of thirty-five pieces, which will give two concerts each night, at 7:30 and 9:30, and the members have been rehearsing for the past month on a number of the latest musical successes in order to present an acceptable program.

Other shows that are expected to prove popular with the visitors to the exposition are Daily Brothers' big circus, which will be located right at the entrance to the big tent; Beckman's Glass Blowers; Col. Otto's four midjet wagons; Sky Clark, overseas veteran, and his wonderful assortment of war relics; Charles Gay's exhibit of 40 lions reared on his farm in Los Angeles; and many other headliners that have been signed by Director Leavitt.

The contest for queen of the exposition has not been arousing the enthusiasm that it had been hoped it would, according to Mr.
Leavitt, and he is anxious to see the friends of the five entrants get behind them and make this contest one that will be among the high lights of the entire exposition. The five girls who have entered are Ruth Fuller Golden, Marie Oliver, Corinne Orff,
Louise Moniot and Ruth Adele Giltner, all of whom are high honors will be heaped on the winner of the contest, while the other entrants will also be the recipients of prizes from the exposition management.

MAKES REPORT ON SEWER PROJECT

L. A. City Attorney Declares Glendale Tieup Would Not Be 'Advisable'

The Los Angeles City Council's finance committee yesterday received a report from City Attorney Stephens in which he expressed his opinion that permitting Glendale's sewer line to connect with the Los Angeles sewer system would be inadvisable. He stated that it would be necessary to go into a number of legal problems thoroughly.

"I believe it is legally possible for two cities to co-operate in the construction of such a project," stated his report, "and it is possible that something could be worked out along the line suggested. I believe, however, that several serious legal questions are presented by the situation which are not at all clear."

"If it is the desire of your honorable body to co-operate with the City of Glendale in the building of such a sewer, I shall, of course, be glad to work out the details of the proposed plan."

Issues Warning
"I feel, however, that I should call your attention to the fact that, if the policy of undertaking to care for the sewage of adjoining municipalities is pursued, we shall find ourselves eventually in the position of having undertaken to perform this extremely important function of government for other municipalities without having the power to tax localities for future maintenance or necessary additional construction. We would also be entirely without power to regulate the use of the sewers by such outside communities in case it became necessary for any purpose."

Japanese Women Plan To Fete Jane Addams

TOKIO, May 2.—Madame Yajima, prominent leader in the feminist movement in Japan, is heading a committee which will be in charge of entertaining Miss Jane Addams, noted American woman welfare worker, when

Ex-Chicken Thief Now
In Poultry Business

ROME, Ga., May 2.—Bill
Martin, seventy, who has served twenty of the last twenty-five years in jail or on the chain-gang and is at present on parole, has gone into the chicken-raising business, and other chicken raisers of this section, far from viewing Bill's venture with the glassy eye that a new competitor might expect to receive, are welcoming him to their ranks.

Also, they are sighing with relief.

Most of his arrests have been for chicken stealing. His first sentence, a quarter of a century ago, was for that offense, and his most recent one was of identical nature. He was paroled to the Sal-

Pig Buried 3 Months
Under Hay Is Alive

WAYNESBORO, Pa., May 2.—
Buried for more than three months under a straw stack on the farm of Max Skinner, a pig recently was rescued alive by farm hands, who heard the grunts of the animal. The pig was reduced to skin and bones and unable to walk. Fed on milk, the animal recovered rapidly and now is said to be in good condition.

While imprisoned under the stack the animal gave birth to a litter of pigs, all of which were dead. It is believed the pig ate enough straw to keep her alive during the imprisonment and that melted snow water furnished drink.

The pig disappeared late in December. At the time it was believed she had been stolen.

NEEDLE IN ARM
J. R. Covert of 859 Kenneth

TUJUNGA GLENDAL BOXER GETS MAIN BOUT

Johnny Meyers Headliner on Tujunga Card for Next Tuesday

Following up a successful experiment in promoting prize fighting in the Tujunga section, Charles E. Kimpel will give a boxing show at his Twin Pines pavilion at Sunset on Tuesday night, May 8. This is the second of the regular shows to be staged here, which will be held regularly every third Tuesday hereafter.

Matchmaker Clinton of Glendale has lined up an attractive card, in spite of the fact that the main event he had hoped to put on has not materialized. Young Essex and King of Burbank were to have furnished the headline attraction, but could not be got together for an agreement.

In their place Clinton has secured what appears to be a bout of just as high, if not higher, class than this one. Canadian Carter, who lost a decision in this ring three weeks ago to Kid Calhoun from San Francisco, will try to redeem his downfall by trimming Johnny Meyers, a fireman from Glendale. Meyers is no slouch at trimming things himself and has met such fast steps as Young George, better known as "Dynamite," one of Doyle's Vernon drawing cards, and Kid Dalton, so Johnny will go in there with considerable knowledge at his disposal and the Canadian will have to show some early foot to take him. Carter will use everything he knows to get back into the good graces of the local fans, as he is a loyal boy himself and desires to stand good with his neighbors.

Good Semi-Final
Bob Kelley and Sailor Papini will furnish the semi-windup. Kelley won in easy fashion from Mathews at the last match and shows considerable speed, both with his hands and his feet. Papini is a tough egg himself and craves to take the Irishman. Although not definitely stated, what the name "Papini" signifies in the way of nationality, one thing is certain—it is not an Irish name and there should be something odd when these two get together.

Lem Carter, a brother of Canadian Carter, will try to lick Freddie Lau of San Diego. Lem fought a draw with Earl King at the last show that was well worth seeing and figures to put up a good fight this time. The complete card:

Johnny Meyers vs. Canadian Carter, at 148 pounds; Bob Kelley vs. Sailor Papini, at 135 pounds; Lem Carter vs. Freddie Lau, 130 pounds; Kid Foster vs. Jimmy Fox, 122 pounds; and Amerigo vs. A. Bernal, at 115 pounds.
Eddie Wilson and Dick Smith will act as judges and Larock, of Glendale will hold the watch and hammer the pan.

Fire Stories False
It was announced from one of the Los Angeles broadcasting stations at the noon period last week that 27,000 ft. timber in the canyons had been burned in Southern California, reducing this to almost the state of a desert. This announcement was in line with the campaign launched to impress campers with the importance of care in leaving campfires in their fires and throwing lit cigars and cigarettes about.

Included in this announcement was the statement "that both Little and Big Tujunga Canyons, which were once beautifully wooded, have been reduced to a sorry condition by recent fires." This statement is not borne out by reports from campers and picnickers who have already been spending their week-ends and vacations in these canyons. Parties interviewed on the two last Sundays had not penetrated as far as Shady Rest reported the spots ideal for camping of any kind, whether prolonged or for an afternoon picnic.

These canyons are very popular with the motoring public and every Sunday there are many machines driving up into the cool recesses of the canyon walls. In view of these investigations, and reports it is evident that the announcement of charred stumps and ruined shrubbery in this section is somewhat exaggerated, to say the least.

Club Gives Dance
The Blanchard Canyon Social club, a new organization for Tujunga, gave the first of a series of weekly dances Saturday night at the open air pavilion in Blanchard canyon, a new subdivision just recently placed on the market. The club has planned a series of social affairs for the summer months and has already found it necessary to draw plans for enlarging the dance floor. They are also planning to add a card room where those who do not care to dance may enjoy games and listen to the music.

An added attraction at the first gathering was a campfire and a "weenie" bake, and the singing of songs around the crackling embers. K. Brandenburg sang baritone solos. Mr. Brandenburg is a professional singer and entertainer and has appeared with the Singer Midgets and on the Orpheum circuit. He and J. M. McMillan are volunteer chefs for the club and will handle the refreshments at future affairs given by the club. Several of the members are building cabins in the canyon and intend to spend the entire summer in this pleasant spot.

The first turn-out demonstrated clearly that the dance floor is not nearly large enough, and this will be enlarged and the card room added as soon as the work can be done. The pavilion is located

LA CRESCENTA NEW REAL ESTATE OFFICE TO OPEN

Mrs. Mary B. Darrow of East Montrose to Have Realty Headquarters

Mrs. Mary B. Darrow of East Montrose will open her new real estate office the latter part of the week in the building Dr. Karr is erecting for her on his property next to Young's garage, corner of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenue, La Crescenta.

Mrs. Gertrude Card will be with Mrs. Darrow as saleswoman and while they specialize in acreage they will handle general real estate and rentals.

Miss Frances Sterrett who has been Mrs. Burke's house guest for some time, was joined by her mother, Mrs. Sterrett and sister, Virginia, of Chicago. They declare themselves enchanted with our glorious state and have no intention of returning to the Windy City.

Mrs. Van Dusen is building an addition to her garage. This is to house her new car.

Miss Christyson, who has owned the business at the Bide-a-wee on Michigan avenue for the year, has sold out.

The new proprietor will take over the postoffice and give assurance the service will equal that of the past.

Collins & Tillinghast have left their office on Honolulu street, which is to be occupied by Howard & Merwin. Collins & Tillinghast will occupy the office Mr. Collins has built, on the porch of his Prospect avenue home.

The friends of little Miss Marjorie Wildhook are glad to welcome her home from Palm Springs. It was too hot to remain there in comfort.

Guests at Musical

Mrs. Mary B. Darrow and her sister, Fennel Lorraine of Long Beach, were guests at the home of Richmond Buhlig of Los Angeles.

The affair was a musical at home and farewell to his numerous friends, as he is leaving the first of June from New York for two years' retirement and rest in Berlin. He will be accompanied by two of his pupils, Henry Cowell, composer, and Wesley Kuhnle of Glendale.

Those present were Mrs. Ray Smith, Ann MacPherson, Mrs. Barrett, Robert Farquhar, Winifred Hooker, Mrs. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Jo Levy, Madame James Cummock school, and Louis Cantorovski, all of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. E. Batchelder of Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. Winter-Hall of Australia and Hollywood.

In an ideal spot under the great oak trees.

A short business session was held before the dance, at which the following officers were elected: W. H. Oliver, president; A. B. Burg, vice-president; Mrs. A. J. Woods, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Forbush was appointed chairman of a social committee, with Mrs. C. E. Morgan and Mrs. A. B. Burg to assist him in arranging the social activities of the club. The music committee consists of H. H. Miller and Mrs. M. J. McMillan.

The names of those present follow: Mr. and Mrs. C. Brucher, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chase, K. Brandenburg, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Burg, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Oliver, Shannon Morgan and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Beecher, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. C. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Forbush.

Miss Green of Los Angeles spent the week-end at the guest of Miss Fortier at the Fortier home, at the corner of Pine and Monte Vista boulevard.

Miss Maud McConnell is writing a series of articles on the art of sewing in all its various branches, to be published soon. Miss McConnell has organized a club that meets at her home Thursdays from 2 to 4 p. m.

J. R. Martin is now connected with the Verdugo Hills Transportation Company. He is a newcomer to Tujunga and intends to make this his home in the future. The reading circle of the Parent-Teachers' Association met at the home of Mrs. J. O. B. Bodkins, 155 South Santa Boulevard, on Friday. At this meeting the reading of the book, "The School Master in a Big City," was resumed. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Bodkins' home also, next Friday from 1 to 3 o'clock.

P. T. A. Will Elect

The Parent-Teachers' Association will hold an election of officers on the sixteenth of May for the coming year. The period just closing has been marked by some excellent work on the part of both officers and members, who have cooperated to a remarkable extent and their work shows the result of this admirable cooperation.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fusha of Altadena spent Sunday afternoon with a party of friends visiting Mr. Fusha's father in Beulah court. K. Brandenburg, formerly a professional singer on the Orpheum and Pantages circuits and also with the Singer Midgets for a period, is building a cabin in Blanchard canyon, where he expects to spend the summer.

Fred Ashby, retired postmaster of Tujunga, is spending the time re-arranging the stock in his store in the postoffice building, where he expects to remain for some time. Mr. Ashby finds too much leisure on his hands since Mrs. Halferty became postmistress and has decided not to retire altogether, but conduct the stationery store he opened in conjunction with the postoffice while he held that position, which has been for a period desirable attributes. "The Christian end is never neglected," he said. There's lots of hiking. You either catch or feed the fish. The cats are fine. The evenings spent around the campfire are wonderful. The sleep is grand. The spirit of the camp is—you know what's right; go ahead and do it!"

Neal Sooy, Hi-Y member, told the assemblage "What a Son Expects From Dad," pointing out that what he expects is co-operation and companionship in spiritual life, in sports, in school and social activities.

Paul Cunningham, in "Bringing Up Dad," made the most clever and polished talk of any of the Hi-Y boys. He was humorous, too, saying, at one point that "we sometimes fall in line with our fathers' wishes, against our own better judgment."

Coach Howard L. Butterfield of the Glendale Union high school, talked on team work, making a strong plea for faith and honor.

Makes Address
Rev. C. A. Cole, of the Central Christian church, then introduced Dr. George P. Taubman of Long Beach, who gave the address of the evening, fashioning his remarks upon the "David and Abigail" theme of the father who pays the penalty for failing to properly bring up his son.

Dr. Taubman's remarks were full of reminiscences of his own boyhood, and of his old home back in Ohio. "We are losing, in America, the greatest organization next to the church—the home," he stated. "You can't build an enduring civilization on a foundation of apartment houses. They used to say a man would die for his home—but who would die for an apartment house?"

The meeting closed with a benediction by Rev. H. I. Rasmus of the First Methodist church of Glendale.

of eight years without a vacation and he feels that he is entitled to a leisurely practice of business for a time.

Saturday afternoon a hurry call was sent to the deputy from Big Tujunga canyon to come and get a walking alcohol plant that was wandering around in the hills. Bert Spencer, night patrolman of the merchants' fire dispatch, rushed out with Walter Perry and gathered in the "wandering stew." How he got that way, or where, is still a mystery.

The merchants' fire dispatch is growing and becoming an institution of considerable merit. It fills a long felt need in Tujunga and Sunland in protection from fire and theft. Several places of business have been molested by night marauders and the dispatch offers a means of preventing these thefts and also the prevention of fires which are often not discovered until they have burned beyond control. Bert Spencer is the patrolman and has been instrumental in breaking up several little parties that were slightly off color already.

Mellor & Rice, Sunland business men, have opened a concession in the Grandview school, the transaction of all business matters was postponed until the next meeting. This announcement was made this morning by Mrs. Myrtle B. Buckham, secretary of the association. Mrs. Buckham also stated that there may be a called meeting of the association before the next regular meeting date, the first Tuesday night in June.

BIG AUDIENCE TO HEAR FUN REVUE

Free Performance to Pack Auditorium of High School Thursday

Predictions are that the Glendale high school auditorium will be packed tomorrow night for the Fun Revue, presented at 8:15 o'clock by the Community Play, directed by Mrs. Nanno Woods. These predictions are well based on the fact that never before has a musical comedy been presented gratis to Glendaleans.

A welcome announcement is that the "Rainbow Ballet," one of the most beautiful numbers of the revue, will be repeated. Other popular numbers will be the burlesque dance by McCoubrey and Widdows; Ray Stinson, the circus barker, with circus clowns, playground girls and dancing girls; Dorothy Morton in her song and dance, "Bees' Knees"; the Spanish ballet, "Taboo Trio," and all the other artists who so delightfully entertained two evenings recently on the stage at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Local Investors to Profit by Oil Well
Schaff-Noble Oil Syndicate's No. 2, on the Warden lease, Santa Fe Springs, came in 1:10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at 4501 feet, in the Myers sand, at an estimated flow of from 6000 to 9000 barrels of better than 35 gravity oil, with a gas pressure of 700 pounds on the flow line, is the announcement made by H. E. Noble, of 327 North Jackson street, one of the trustees of the syndicate.

The well started spouting mud at about 12:30 o'clock yesterday. Mr. Noble reports, by 1:10 it had cleaned itself and came in, and by 1:14 it was putting clean oil in the tank. It was at 1:30 that the estimate of a flow of between 6000 and 9000 barrels was made.

"This well is known as the Neighborhood well," says Mr. Noble. H. B. Schaff, of South Pasadena, is the other trustee and we have with us a number of local people. We spudded in No. 2 in October, 1922. And in June, 1922, we spudded in No. 1, which we expect to bring in within ten days.

Postpone Meeting of Foothill Association
Owing to a small attendance at the meeting last night of the Foothill Improvement association at the Grandview school, the transaction of all business matters was postponed until the next meeting. This announcement was made this morning by Mrs. Myrtle B. Buckham, secretary of the association.

Mrs. Buckham also stated that there may be a called meeting of the association before the next regular meeting date, the first Tuesday night in June.

WOMEN'S CLUB TO SEEK NEW HOME

Will Surrender Location on South Maryland at End of Lease

Decision was made last night at the cabinet meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club that the club will give up club rooms during the summer months.

This action, according to Dr. Laura Brown, president, followed the request from the owner, Mrs. H. W. Hall, of the present club house at 126 South Maryland avenue, that the club relinquish its lease so that she could use her property for business purposes.

During the summer months the headquarters of the club will be the Glendale Commercial school at 224 South Brand boulevard. It is the plan to hold the social meetings out of doors.

In the fall it is possible that the club will secure the services of Miss Margaret Gilbert of Pasadena to manage the lunch concession. Miss Gilbert is a domestic science expert and has had wide experience in canteen work. She has been engaged in lunch work in Pasadena for five years, and she has served as high as 3000 lunches a month.

Youthful Medium Is Found to Be Fraud

TOULOUSE, France, May 2.—Pierrot Magarac is only a nine-year-old boy, but he once had quite a reputation as a spirit medium, much to the financial advantage of his father.

Pierrot's specialty was to lie in his bed, ostensibly going into a trance. Always, following a sufficient lapse of time, there came queer knockings, and a little bell under the bed would begin to answer questions of mere mortals in spirit language. Pierrot apparently never moved.

All went well for several weeks. Then an inquisitive reporter attended a seance. He thought he detected a hand under the bed.

Just before the next seance he managed to smear fresh black paint on the little bell. Everything worked perfectly. The "spirits" answered as usual. But they proved to be black "spirits" for Pierrot and his father. The boy's hands, after the seance, were covered with black paint, and the exposer of the fraud revealed the source of the fraud to the others present.

Pierrot's father has gone to work.

ROW IN ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—The Gates constitutional amendment to permit verdicts by three-fourths of a jury in criminal cases, except where the death penalty is involved, developed one of the warmest rows of the session in the assembly yesterday.

The Los Angeles delegation is pledged to support the measure, which is backed by the Los Angeles crime commission. Labor, on the other hand, is opposing it and claims to have enough votes to defeat it.

France now has 2714 locomotives, 7764 passenger cars, and 49,134 freight cars.

Nearly 12,000,000 Buddhists live in India.

ATWATER SCHOOL STAGES PAGEANT

'The Covered Wagon' May Day Festival by Children Is Spectacular

"The Covered Wagon" was presented at the Atwater school yesterday, but the wagons were not of the pioneer variety which are being shown in our neighboring city of Hollywood, but were wagons covered with flowers and greenery and occupied by charming little lassies and laddies, chubby babies and bright-eyed dolls.

The occasion was the first May fete given in the Atwater district, and the program opened at 10:30 with a floral parade through the principal streets.

Not only were there wagons, but gaily decorated bicycles, sail boats, doll carriages and "scooters," while the "Foot" division, showing Indians and fairies, pioneers and baby girls, Japs and Gypsies, Boy Scouts and cowboys, pirates, Chinese, Little Red Riding Hood and Huckleberry Finn, clowns, flower girls and two Columbias, made a riot of color.

At 11 o'clock the baby contest was on and for two hours Dr. Cleaves and his assistants weighed and measured all sizes from tiny little morsels of humanity to sturdy 5-year-olds. Fifty-five children were entered for the contest.

Booths Sell Wares
The Atwater Parent-Teachers' association conducted a bazaar in connection with the festival, and twelve gaily decorated booths displayed their wares and provided refreshment for the large crowd.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon was general chairman of the bazaar, and she was ably assisted by the members of the association and teachers of the Atwater school. The fancy work booth was in charge of Mrs. Mabel Daniels, president of the Atwater association; aprons, Mrs. Charles McKenzie; grab bag, Mrs. Harry Wigley, Mrs. S. M. Crane; useful articles, Mrs. Dale Vaughan and Mrs. Paul Lupo; hot dogs, Mrs. L. W. Pennock; popcorn, peanuts and candy, Mrs. Charles Vandewood and Mrs. H. C. Wilson; pop, Mrs. J. D. Nolan and Mrs. Young; plants, Miss McCullough; cakes and pies, Mrs. H. B. Jones, Mrs. G. W. Jones and Mrs. Ed Walk; cooked foods and dinner, Mrs. Renstrom, Mrs. Newell; coffee and sandwiches, Mrs. C. E. Rathbone, Mrs. Newby and Mrs. Peterman; program, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. H. C. Wilson and Mrs. Alexander.

Mrs. C. I. Clouse had charge of the splendid exhibit of the children's work in the various grades. Not the least interesting was the corner devoted to the pets in charge of Mrs. A. A. Larson. There were chickens, rabbits, kittens, guinea pigs, a rooster, a duck, a kid and a horned toad, dogs, pedigreed and otherwise. There was the cat that shook hands at a penny a shake and a singing dog.

At 12:30 a program of sports and contests was put on by the boys of the school, under the direction of Miss Gates and Mrs. Jones.

May Day Program
At 2:30 the splendid May day program was presented by the school. The royal progress of the queen, Ruth Wilson, and her maid of honor with six attendant maids, eight flower girls, train bearers and pages to the platform was accompanied by singing by the maids of honor. Before the court the following program was given: Spring Song, A4 and B5 grades; "I See You," A1 and B1; "Daffodils," A3 and B4; clasp dance, A2 and B3 girls.

Play "Dust Under the Rug," dramatized by Adele Lloyd, A6 and B7; waltzing doll dance, Edna LePoint; Indian dance, A2 and B3; milk maid dance, A5 and A6; Stars and Stripes dance, Edna LePoint; May Pole dance, A4 and B5. This last dance was given by both boys and girls, the boys dressed as clowns and the girls in dainty white costumes making a most colorful scene.

The teachers of Atwater school whose efforts made the day such a great success are Miss Rosalind Gates, principal; Mrs. Berthe Sanders, Mrs. Anna Kovacevich, Miss Grace M. Haskell, Mrs. Margaret McCullough, Miss Esther Eby, Miss Kathryn FitzSimons, Mrs. Myrtle Gault.

The attendance was very gratifying and all Atwater seemed to make it a gala day.

Ice Cream Runs Out
The queen contest netted $25 for Starvation fund. The pop and ice cream gave out before lunch was over and a hurry call was sent out for more.

The milk stand was one of the most popular and the pupils handling it are experts in the speed with which they open the bottle and place the straw.

The cooked dinner committee report $20 for the fund. Others have not reported.

The workmen on the new school building were good customers at the noon hour at all the refreshment booths.

Hello Folks!

We just arrived and like your city fine,
Spent all day with Harry Miller and now it's also mine.
I remember four years ago when Glendale was a colt,

She raised her head high in the air, and stood ready for to bolt.

The gong did sound, the race was on, she jumped two lengths ahead.

So far in fact at a single glance you'd say the rest of the world was dead.

Listen, we have a winner, boys, we are playing on the side.

And we need you Glendale folks to help us make this ride.

You will like her, you will admire her, you will love this stately mare.

For she is a Santa Fe Springs pure bred, folks, mounted high in the air.

Come in, let's talk it over, and I'll tell you what I'll do, Spin you out to the race track boy, and see this race go through.

You will place your bets as others have done when you see her from the top.

Get in, be quick, for I tell you folks, she's located in this spot.

Now we are located in Glendale and we are here to stay
In Harry Miller's office, 114 East Broadway.

AMEND CONTRACT FOR EXPOSITION

Commissions of Solicitors to Be Deducted From Gross Receipts

The question of amending the contract that has been entered into by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and the Glendale Credit Association, on the one hand, and H. Leavitt, on the other hand, for the holding of the Merchants Industrial Exposition here from May 5 to June 3, was brought up at the weekly meeting of the board of directors, with W. E. Hewitt, vice-president, in the chair, yesterday in the Citizens Building, when H. S. McCormack, of the exposition committee stated that Mr. Leavitt had asked that the present contract be amended to provide for the deduction of the 25 per cent to be paid to the solicitors who have been selling space in the exposition before the gross receipts are divided between the parties to the contract. The contract, as originally drawn, failed to specify that this commission should be deducted, and an opinion given by attorney Owen Emery, who was called in to discuss the point, was to the effect that this clause rightfully belonged to the gross receipts. It would be unfair to expect Mr. Leavitt and his associates to bear the expense out of their share of the receipts.

The question was left to the decision of the exposition committee. A. L. Baird, chairman of the industrial committee, introduced H. Nuzon and H. C. Powell, representatives of the Rogers Unit Drive Motor Truck Corporation, at present located at Sunnyvale, California, who are seeking a factory site here where they may carry on the manufacture of their automobile truck, which is, they claim, superior to other machines. Both men were careful to point out that the concern is not asking anything more from Glendale than an invitation to establish their factory here, and the assurance that they will receive the same treatment from the local financial institutions as other legitimate businesses here.

No Stock Selling
The firm now possesses equipment valued at $60,000, and the extra machinery and equipment that will be needed here when the factory is established would bring the investment up to $100,000 more than this. They assure the board that their concern could secure ample finances through their connections in Los Angeles, and that they did not intend to start a stock selling campaign here. They noted figures showing that the plant would carry enough men on the payroll to call for an expenditure of $4500 for every single unit when it was working at capacity, and they declared that the profits from the manufacture of two complete trucks daily, which would be the capacity of the factory at the start, would amount to $1500.

The board instructed Secretary F. Sanders to give the Rogers corporation a letter welcoming them to Glendale. The directors instructed the secretary to send a wire to President Harding urging immediate federal action to halt the rise in the price of sugar and to bring about a drastic reduction in the present rate by the attachment of the ants and barks of the sugar companies, the imposition of an export tax and the fixing of a maximum profit of one cent per pound. The telegram authorized was similar in tone to one sent by the Redlands Chamber of Commerce, a copy of which was read to the board.

Want New Bridge
A resolution that had been drafted for presentation to the Los Angeles City Council, the Glendale City Council and the Board of Supervisors, asking that immediate steps be taken to replace the anhoie bridge on Glendale boulevard with a modern structure was adopted. P. J. Haynes, of the highways and bridges committee, stated that plans for the new bridge were under consideration for the erection of a double deck concrete bridge across the river south of Glendale, but it was the belief of the board that pressure at this time might have the effect of needing the matter up and of keeping the needs of Glendale before the authorities.

The question of the erection of a footbridge on North Central avenue was also urged, owing to the danger to school children that exists at the times they have to cross the bridge going to and returning from school. The matter will be taken care of by the highways and bridges committee.

SEEK LONE BANDIT
SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Police shotgun squads were seeking a lone bandit who jumped aboard an automobile carrying Donald Hey, collector for a realty company, late yesterday, and forced him at the point of an automatic revolver to drive to Golden Gate and then jump from the car, leaving aboard his collection bag containing $700. The bandit then drove rapidly away in the car.

COMMENT That's All

More Proof of Prosperity
Features, Makeup and News
Co-Operative Advertising
All Depends On Viewpoint

By Gil A. Cowan

PROOF of Glendale's prosperity may be found in the columns of The Glendale Evening News any week! Just glance over the issues of the past fortnight and see what a wondrous amount of display advertising as well as the usual run of classified liners are to be found.

There is no let up here in Glendale—and why should there be? The fastest growing city in America, despite Long Beach's claim to the title, should see every line of endeavor the most prosperous ever.

Glendale is going straight ahead and nothing less than a catastrophe can stop it. Incidentally, we are not courting catastrophes, such as annexation, annihilation, etc.

And while you are glancing through the columns of The Glendale Evening News note the many daily features it contains in addition to the regular grist of telegraph, local and neighborhood news.

For instance, the woman's page has a daily short story by one of the country's most eminent writers; it has a daily fashion hint that is well worthy of attention; there is practical housekeeping.

The sporting page includes such satellites as Davis J. Walsh, formerly editing the Boston American sports sheet; Bill Unmack, formerly of the San Francisco Examiner staff, and Franklin K. Morse, formerly Associated Press sports editor.

These features are furnished by such nationally known syndicates as McClure's, George Matthews Adams, Pictorial Review, International Features, International News, Pacific Sports, New York Sun Herald, and others.

Daily cartoons by Morris, Bushnell and Wood Cowan also add flavor to the columns of The Glendale Evening News.

Think of the advice the women get from Edna Kent Forbes, Laura Kirkman, Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters or Ruth Cameron.

The Glendale Evening News has grown to be an institution in the homes of the communities lying in the shadow of the green Verdugo Hills. It has the reader interest.

Sometimes we think that Glendale should join with other adjacent communities in an advertising campaign for more people. Burbank, Tujunga, Eagle Rock, Montrose, La Crescenta—all are contiguous communities and only imaginary lines divide them from one another.

We venture to say that Eagle Rock has benefited more by the growth of Glendale than any other one factor. And the foothill folks of Montrose, La Crescenta and Tujunga look to this city as their educational and trade center.

There is a bond of mutual industries between Burbank and Glendale that are building both greater. The Verdugo Hills Scout Council is a practical demonstration of the co-operation which might be obtained. It is our honest belief that greater community would result by more reciprocal work.

It is difficult for men of vision to make people in every day life see the future as it will be. We know of many visionaries in Glendale who have predicted its great growth—and they were called boosters, yes liars, by those who were so shortsighted as to pass on to others the advantages of investment.

Yet, as we look upon the skeptics and the pessimists who still hang around, a certain amount of credit is due them, too. They have sold out some of their holdings and made room for more people.

They have acted as the balance wheel on those who were too optimistic. Somebody once said, "It takes all sorts of people to make the world go round."

And Glendale in playing its part must have the optimist and the pessimist, the booster and the knacker, in order to appreciate just what it has!

BOYCOTT ON SUGAR
LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Boycotting of sugar by housewives in Los Angeles in an attempt to reduce the present exorbitant prices of the product was being considered as local club women framed suitable resolutions in this regard for their organizations.

Already club women of El Monte and Riverside have greatly curtailed use of sugar, as a result of voting last week to do so in an effort to lower the cost. Pasadena club women stand ready to act on the proposition, according to Mrs. W. D. Crocker, chairman of the home economics committee of the Shakespeare Club, the largest woman's organization of Pasadena.

READY TO SURRENDER
LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Lee M. Williford, charged with the murder on January 16 of W. S. Fisher, a policeman, will surrender himself voluntarily to the district attorney's office soon and will stand trial for the crime, according to a statement made by Deputy District Attorney W. J. Jobs, following a conference between Mrs. Alice Williford, wife of the accused man, and his attorney, S. S. Hahn.

DANCE CONTESTS WILL BE STAGED

Elimination Matches Will Be Held to Select Glendale Winners

Local followers of the graceful goddess Terpsichore will be attracted by the announcement issued by the National Dancing Contest association that an elimination contest is to be held Thursday night, May 3, at 140 North Brand boulevard. The contest is to be open to everyone interested, who may compete for the silver loving cup. Glendale winners are to be matched against couples from other Southern California cities and the final winners are to have a free trip to San Francisco to participate in the state elimination contest.

In announcing this contest the committee in charge states, "The purpose back of these contests is to encourage the old time, clean dancing with the idea of making vulgar position and jazz steps unpopular among the young folks."

Back to Sanity
"There seems to be a return to sanity in dancing these days, probably as a result of the notoriety received by long-distance dances and other extreme faddists."

"Clean dancing, in which proper time and proper holding of partners or 'place' as dancing masters term it, are observed, is not only becoming more popular but more profitable."

After elimination contests have been held in every state, a national contest will take place in New York for the national championship. All state winning couples will receive a free trip to New York for this final show-down and the final winners will be held under contract by the association for one year for motion picture or vaudeville contracts.

CHILDREN EAGER TO ATTEND SHOW

Enlist Automobile Owners to Help Take Crippled
Kids to Circus

There are sixty little crippled children over at the Los Angeles Orthopedic hospital who are hoping that the good fairy of automobiles will smile on them next Monday.

The society circus for the benefit of the hospital is scheduled to take place next week and the hospital children have been invited for Monday. They are all unable to attend the performance unless taken to and from the circus in automobiles and unless all of them can go none of them will be happy in the privilege.

Mrs. Belle Willis of 908 South Central avenue is one of the Glendale women interested in the children's happiness and she is enlisting Glendale automobile owners in offering their cars for Monday. Glendale people who would like to have some appreciative little motor guests on Monday should call Mrs. Willis at Glendale 2968.

PLANS TO ELECTRIFY
PITTSBURGH, May 2.—The Virginia railway will electrify 225 miles of its track between Roanoke, Va., and Mullins, W. Va., as quickly as equipment can be obtained, according to a statement by Frank H. Sheppard, high official of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, here late yesterday. The contract for the electrification is the largest ever awarded, involving a total of $15,000,000, and has been awarded to the Westinghouse company.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Woman's Page

Catherine Wallace's heels hit the sidewalk with an indignant emphasis. She held her pretty head high and walked as a woman on a mission.

"Be careful, now, Catherine," the girl repeated to herself. "You know your friends say your big fault is your temper." She would carry this thing off with dignity, then, when she returned home where no one could see her, she could weep and have hysterics.

Those friends who had appraised Catherine's temper had been notified of her plans to marry Ned Mason, just a month from this day. Well, she would be surprised to hear it was all off. And Ned would be surprised when they handed him her letter, the little note explaining the return of the ring. There was no need to say anything in it about the other girl with whom Catherine had seen him enter a restaurant. Ned would know. A guilty man needs ask no questions. And she was a skinny girl, too with a last year's coat.

Catherine approached the apartment house in which Ned lived. He would not be there and she would leave it at the desk. Then, when he came in, it would be handed to him and he would not plan to call on her that evening. Catherine was determined she would save herself and him a scene. She would carry the note herself and beat the mail.

In the entrance of the large apartment building the girl paused and looked around. A telephone operator looked up.

"Can you see this note is delivered to Mr. Ned Mason's apartment?" Catherine asked and hurried out. The thing had been done. Ned Mason had been shown he could not trifle with her. Catherine hastened home.

The telephone operator in Ned's apartment handed the note to the elevator boy, who stuck it behind the annunciator and waited for Ned. When the boy went off shift he turned it over to the night boy, and still Ned was not to be seen.

In the elevator the night boy fingered the note and felt the lump in one corner. Making a small opening in the envelope, he extracted the ring, shoved it on the first point of his little finger and admired it. The elevator boy was planning to be married. All he needed to nerve him to the point of proposing was a ring, and here it was. He read the letter, which said: "I am returning your ring."

"This makes it difficult," he said, "but here goes."

"I have found you out," said the note in a single line above the fold of the sheet of paper, and below was the other line about the ring. The elevator boy tore the sheet in two, restored the half to the envelope, and hoped for favorable results.

When Ned Mason hurriedly entered his apartment he found the note:

"I have found you out."

He grabbed the telephone and asked at the office if anyone had called, then asked for Catherine's number.

"Sorry I wasn't in when you called," he said. "Got your note saying you found me out. How did you hear my sister was in town? I was saving the news for a surprise tonight when we will both call."

"Oh," said Catherine in a thin voice, "you can depend upon me to find out what you are doing." She left the telephone wondering what it could all mean. Where was the ring, and why wasn't Ned angry?

That evening when a bewildered Catherine was studying Ned's face to see if he were not hiding the secret, the telephone rang. She held a brief conversation and returned.

"You will excuse me just a few minutes. I must slip over to my friend's home. Wait, please!" and Catherine was gone.

At the police station she astonished a captain by pleading for the release of an elevator man who had been accused of stealing her ring. The torn off part of the letter bearing her name furnished the police a clue upon which they acted when they could not find Mason.

When Catherine rejoined Ned and his sister she possessed new resolutions concerning her temper and was able once more to display her hand.

"After we are married," she promised herself, "I will tell him about the day I found him out and how near he came to finding me out."

DAILY FASHION HINT

Prepared Especially for The Glendale Evening News

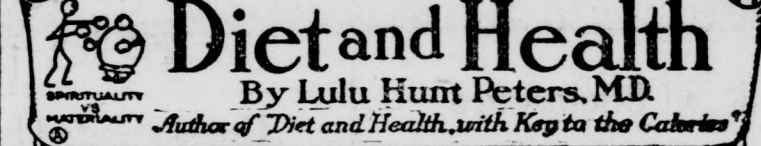

DELIGHTFUL MODELS FOR INFORMAL WEAR

See how cleverly the trimming of printed silk in the first design escapes being abbreviated into a vestee and achieves its aim of being a panel. Crepe-backed satin is used for the dress, whose fronts are turned back to form revers and finished with a collar of self-material. The sleeves may be gathered into narrow cuffs, or allowed to flare, with a deep straight cuff. Medium size requires 5 yards 36-inch crepe and 2-4 yard brocade. The brocade may be joined at the waist under the girle, for the sake of economy.

Silk voile makes up the second model, trimmed with bands of fancy ribbon. Fashion has made no more valuable contribution to the season's styles than the grosgrain ribbons, which are always distinctive however simple their patterns. Deep bands of self-material with ribbon stitched about the edges, trim the skirt. The deep collar and flare sleeves are ornamented with ribbon also. Medium size requires 4 5-8 yards 36-inch material and 7 yards of ribbon.

First Model: Pictorial Review Dress No. 1469. Sizes 35 to 50 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Second Model: Dress No. 1460. Sizes, 34 to 50 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

My Dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget to enclose the s. a. s. e. if you ask for an article.

Reader.—You say dandruff comes in patches on your little girl's scalp and there are some red spots also. It may be possible that it is ring worm. That's fairly common in children. Ring worm is due to a microscopic fungus growth and you would have to use something that would kill off this parasite.

The hair on the spot should be cut short or even pulled out, and for about one-quarter of an inch around them. The parasite burrows deep down into the hair follicle; that is the reason it is so difficult to cure.

There are many things used in the treatment of ring worm. Among them are sulphur ointment, plain iodine, salicylic acid ointment and mercurial ointment. Jackson advises iodine ointment made by rubbing a drachm (about a teaspoonful) of the crystals of iodine in one ounce of goose grease. This has to be well rubbed into the patches with a stiff brush every day, washing them well before applying each time.

Sometimes ring worm is so persistent that X-rays have to be used to kill off the parasite. No one should use the same comb or brush and do not let the other children put on the affected child's hat. It may take a long while to kill the parasites off.

Mrs. R. B.—That is splendid that you have lost 37 pounds. You say you do not seem able to lose any more on the 1200 calories a day. This is not an uncommon experience after 25 or 30 pounds have been lost. I advise in these cases not to go under 1200 calories a day for the daily intake, but one day a week go on a liquid diet of not over 500 or 600 calories.

You can have anything you like in liquids as long as you don't go over the 600 C. limit. Skim milk, eight ounces, 30 C's; whole milk twice as much. Fat-free corn-soup, eight ounces, about 25 C's. Orange juice, about eight ounces, 100 C's.

You will lose a half pound to one pound on this and that is enough for you to be losing weekly now.

If you get lame and have the other symptoms you say you do from your exercises you must not exercise so strenuously. Now as to the reason you don't continue to reduce on your 1200 C's. It is possible that you are not counting your calories right. And isn't it possible that you over-eat once in a while and make your average over 1200 C's? One really should reduce on 1200 C's, even after reducing as much as you have. However, you are not having to nourish 37 pounds of fat any more, so naturally you need less than you did before to make the balance

AN EYELASH TONIC

There is always a big demand for something that will make the eyelashes and eyebrows longer and thicker. My formula is:

Cocoa butter 1 dram
Parawax 4 drams
Lamoline 1/2 dram
Oil of sweet almonds 4 drams
Perfumed oil 2 drops

If you can't get parawax, which is only the paraffin used to coat jelly tumblers, plain beeswax will do. If you find oil of sweet almonds too expensive, olive oil or castor oil are good substitutes.

Practically everything in this formula will grow hair. It makes a rather thick cream which in cold weather must be warmed a bit before it will rub on easily, sometimes letting it stay on the skin a moment will soften it sufficiently. It can be rubbed well into the lashes and even on the skin at the corners of the eyes and underneath, because it is very good for wrinkles and there is no danger of superfluous hair on this part of the face.

When you rub it into the eyebrows, however, be careful and do not spread the cream over too wide an area or you may have the lashes growing out of alignment. If you use this cream at night, which is the best time to practice any of these beauty treatments, I would suggest that you put a very little bit of the cream on your finger, rub it down the center line of each eyebrow and wipe off all that spreads beyond the line of the hairs.

If the weather is quite warm, or your skin unusually sensitive, this thick cream may irritate a bit, in which case do not use it so often, and when you do rub it into the lashes wipe off what spreads over the skin. But there are very few cases where it will irritate. The irritation is only caused because it is so thick.

J. M. D.—It is possible that whatever is giving you headaches may also be causing the loss of your hair, so consult your doctor. It would be well, also, to have an examination of your scalp to see exactly what causes these bald spots, as it might be a skin infection that will require external treatment.

ON THE SUBJECT OF HOSPITALS

Speaking of hospitals, which I did some weeks ago, and which my Letter Friends have been doing ever since, some in approving tones and some quite otherwise, I certainly did not mean to belittle the tremendous work for sick folks that hospitals all over the country have done and, I trust, will continue to do.

For any individual institution (Especially none in this vicinity as I have had no experience here).

What I felt, and what I think I said, was that there was a tendency in many hospitals to let red tape and the need for routine and discipline dominate the institution.

If the hospital were a business which could meet competition according to the amount of good it did to the patient, I cannot believe that the men at the head of it would not find some way to allow the patient who has been awake all night, and has at last fallen into a healing sleep, to have that sleep out, whether his face were washed at a special time or not. The problem would be studied from the point of view of a thing that had to be done. They would say: "Sleep is the most important curative agent. How shall we arrange this?"

that you want to lose contribute to your energy needs.

Mrs. P.—I am sorry but I am not able to give personal replies. You will have to see your physician for your questions. As soon as it is possible I am going to prepare a pamphlet on disorders peculiar to women and I shall notify you in the column when it is ready, so that then you can send for it.

The Nurse is Blamed

"We will suppose the nurse doesn't give the medicine. The patient seems to have a fairly good night. The next morning the doctor comes and the nurse goes with him to the bedside. When questioned regarding her night, the patient replies that she had a perfectly dreadful night, that she had asked the nurse for something but did not get it. The doctor criticizes the nurse, says that his orders must be carried out or the nurse will be reported to the training school office. Her story that the patient seemed to her to pass a comfortable night goes for nothing."

Sounds very probable, doesn't it? And makes one see the nurse's difficulties in a somewhat different light.

I suppose the answer to the whole thing is that hospitals, like other institutions, are run by human beings, that it is very hard to know the right thing to do and very easy to criticize.

TEACHER OPPOSES READING CLASSICS

Sees No Punch in Novels of Scott and Thackeray; Favors Moderns

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 2.—"Can we rationally expect our students, tuned to the swift pace of the auto, the airplane, radio and the movie, to read with enthusiasm the slow-moving novels of Sir Walter Scott and William Makepeace Thackeray?" asked Miss Edna Paschall, instructor in the Springfield, Ohio, high school, addressing an audience here on "Reforms in College Entrance Requirements."

Recommendation that most of the classics be dropped, that the legends, folk tales and King Arthur stories be restored in the grades, that a reserve list be maintained for extremely mature pupils and that some be studied historically in the colleges and universities was made by Miss Paschall.

Modern Writings

She urged "fewer classics and a larger number of modern writings; less emphasis upon literary form, more upon thought content and greater individual freedom in the selection of readings."

Miss Paschall declared that "it takes a determined literary mind to see any difference between Rosalind's foolish escapade in the woods (in Shakespeare's 'As You Like It') and the flapper's joy-ride to Urbana." She found no punch in novels of Scott, Thackeray and others.

It seemed less foolish after the nurse had told me what would have happened if she had not.

"Nine Times Out of Ten," she writes

"Nine times out of ten," she said, "the story would have read as follows: 'Patient could not sleep, asked for something to induce sleep. The nurse had no order for it, but told the patient she would try to get one. The patient's mind is relieved. She stops worrying about not sleeping and as a result drops asleep. In the meantime the nurse has zot-pen the doctor's order and finds the pill to the patient and takes the patient asleep.'

The Nurse is Blamed

"We will suppose the nurse doesn't give the medicine. The patient seems to have a fairly good night. The next morning the doctor comes and the nurse goes with him to the bedside. When

Contractor Brought Here By Literature From Organization

The influence exercised by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and its advertising literature in bringing two wealthy contractors to this city was told at the weekly luncheon yesterday in the Citizens Building by W. S. Bear, 220 North Central avenue, when he and his brother, D. C. Bear, decided to close out their lumber business in the middle west and come to California to engage in business.

Claims Well Founded

When a copy of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce folder fell into his hands last year he instituted an investigation of the statements contained in it, and declared that he found all Glendale's claims well founded, even to a greater degree than the folder set them forth. The result of his investigation was that he and his brother came to Glendale and invested part of their money in property here, at various points in the city, and, since last October, when they launched out in business here, they have erected thirteen homes and his brother, D. C. Bear, is now completing a modern bungalow court on South Central avenue, while he, himself, is planning to start building a modern apartment hotel, to cost $100,000, on North Central avenue on some property that he acquired since coming here. D. C. Bear is also planning to erect a building on his lots on South Central avenue, near the site selected for the new Masonic Temple.

Mr. Bear attributes the credit for his and his brother's coming here and engaging in business entirely to the Chamber of Commerce and to the literature that the organization has been sending out, and in his short speech before the board yesterday he asserted that a Chamber of Commerce is the prime need of any city if it is to make any progress. He predicted that a number of his friends would come to Glendale to make their homes as a direct result of the boosting that he and his brother are doing for the city, one of them being a cousin of his who is a prominent capitalist back east.

Richmond, Ind., has an art gallery in its high school building.

Claim Rameses' Tomb Will Transcend Tut's

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—Egyptologists are now looking forward to the discovery of the tomb of Rameses II., according to Dr. George A. Barton, archeologist of the University of Pennsylvania. The glories of Rameses' tomb are expected to eclipse those of Tut-ankh-Amen's, Dr. Barton declares, basing his assertion on the fact that Rameses reigned for sixty-five years, whereas the reign of "King Tut" was comparatively short.

The University of Pennsylvania has an expedition already afield searching for Assyrian antiquities at Ur, Chaldea.

SENDS PROGRAM OF D. A. R. MEET

Representative of Glendale Chapter Writes of Convention

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of a program of the recent thirty-second continental congress of the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution, in Washington, D. C. Monday, April 16, through Saturday, April 22. The program was sent by Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, secretary of the Glendale General Richard Gridley chapter, who is at present visiting in Washington, and who represented the Glendale Daughters at the annual gathering.

On the front of the program booklet is a picture of the Memorial Continental hall, while the introductory page bears the flag salute and the American's creed.

Version of Creed

It is the authorized version of the creed and reads: "I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equity, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

PLANT DUST AS POTENT AS TNT

U. S. Experts Find It Root of Devastating Explosions
In Grain Elevators

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Study of dust explosions in mines, mills and grain elevators by federal chemists has led to the discovery of an explosive fully as potent as TNT, which may be developed as a tremendously destructive agent in case of war.

Experimenters in the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture are able to force a small quantity of plant dust into a miniature building, generate an electric spark within and see the structure blown to fragments.

Provided a proper mixture of plant dust and air is obtained an explosion invariably follows the application of fire. For experiments to demonstrate the danger of accumulations of plant dust a candle is placed in a model elevator. When dust is injected the explosion blows off the roof with a terrific bang.

May Be Used in War

The more imaginative experts conceived the idea of applying the discovery to warfare, utilizing plant dust as an explosive instead of gunpowder. The plan has its difficulties, but it is believed possible to work out a successful method.

The study of dust explosions originated in the Bureau of Mines in the investigation of blasts which wrecked coal mines. Mine explosions, it developed, are of two characters—those caused by gas and others caused by dust. Coal dust is essentially the same as plant dust found in elevators, grain threshers and flour mills.

The Bureau of Mines transferred a part of the investigation to the Bureau of Chemistry. During one season, in the state of Washington, 300 threshing machines exploded, with a big property loss and many casualties. An investigator was dispatched by the Agricultural Department to conduct a probe.

While it was at first thought radical societies were responsible, chemists discovered the blasts resulted from an accumulation of dust within the threshers, which exploded as the result of sparks caused by static electricity.

Wires on Threshers

Subsequently threshing machines were equipped with miniature lightning rods, which grounded the static electricity, preventing a spark. This has practically ended threshing explosions.

GRIM HUMOR IN JAPAN ANSWER

Foreigners in Tokio Marvel At Temerity of Reference to Ethics

By DUKE N. PARRY
For International News Service
TOKIO, May 2.—"Within the law, but morally wrong"—here is a verdict on Japan's latest message on the Twenty-one Demands, a verdict given by some students of the history of Japan's notorious acquisition of 1915. When the Gaimsho, in Tokio, Japan's foreign office, gave a firm refusal the other day to the application by China for an abrogation of the 1915 treaties, political Tokio knew that the Gaimsho had the law and a big part of the legal argument on the question on the side of Tokio. But foreigners who lived in Peking and in Tokio in the year 1915 are slow to forget the Twenty-one Demands.

Twenty-one Demands Made

Before the second year of the world war was concluded the famous Okuma cabinet made the Twenty-one Demands on China. Commonly known abroad as South Manchuria, the country involved in the Twenty-one Demands is really the Kwantung Leased Territory, although certain sections of the demands, including that on Shantung, have already been abrogated. When Japan asked China for the now well-known rights in Shantung, and went further to demand that Japanese hold one of the valuable sections of Asia, namely, the section of South Manchurian railway district and valuable ports of trade, foreign observers in Peking and Tokio were astonished. Japan asked that she be given a preferential right to a rich district, which she planned to control.

Japs Gain Concessions

But Japan was granted her demands, despite the fact that Yuan Shih-Kai disowned head of a breaking Chinese government, was the Chinese who allowed the deal to be made. Japan threatened force, it is said, and some who would defend Japan say that Yuan came saturated with grain dust, which was probably set off by an electric spark.

It was explained at the Bureau of Chemistry that a series of explosions usually occurs before a mill or elevator is destroyed. The first, of insignificant proportions, shakes up dust piles throughout the mill, filling the air with a sufficient concentration of dust to generate a terrific explosion. Fire invariably follows a dust blast.

The Department of Agriculture is now carrying on an extensive campaign throughout the United States to keep mills and elevators cleared of accumulations of dust piles. Such action, it is hoped will eliminate destructive explosions.

Dance Marathons Are O. K. in New Haven

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 2.—Marathon dancers may try their game all they please here. "Why should I stop them?" asks Philip T. Smith, local chief of police and, incidentally, president of the International Association of Police Chiefs. "It is merely a trial of endurance. If a person wanted to walk up and down East Rock fifteen times we would have no more call to stop him than we have to stop these dancers."

ASK MORE PAY

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Eight hundred members of the bakers' union went out on strike here Tuesday, demanding higher pay.

Average pair of squirrels store away a supply of nuts about five times more than they can possibly eat during the winter.

Shih-Kai himself requested a show of force from Japan in order that he might save his own "face" with the angered people of Peking. There are those in Peking who will say that he desired to save his life.

But Japan will say the deal was just as legal as though with the present government. And Japan began, as Japan did in Shantung, to prove that Japanese efficiency and Japanese money, which aided the efficiency, were reasons enough for Japan to hold almost any district. And herein is the first of Japan's reasons for claiming domination in all Asia.

Smuggling Plea

To take the two sides of the case, reason by reason, would be a lengthy effort indeed. It is enough to realize that Japan presents the following statement in the preface to her claims for world approval of her most recent refusal to give back South Manchuria to the Chinese: "The Chinese communication to Tokio, coming as it does following the settlement of an international question, is 'contrary to the accepted principles of international intercourse.'"

To the nations of the world there is doubtless keen interest in what Japan and China are doing today. On one side is China, a failure already in Shantung in that that province is today reverting to the deplorable conditions obtaining in interior China; China without a steady government and herself a bankrupt before the world if finance. China admittedly unable to handle what she has, without mention of what she might get. Across the Sea of Japan is the government of Tokio, well to do, efficient, backed by men of keen business sense and handled by diplomats who have learned their diplomacy well, Japan possessing her grants in South Manchuria by treaties that must be termed legal in the eyes of the world. And yet Japan received her grants by the violation of proper "international intercourse" a claim she dares to throw back today at China.

WORLD PACT TO CURB DRUG EVIL

Plan to Be Considered at Committee Meeting of League of Nations

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Negotiations of a world agreement to curb the production and manufacture of narcotic drugs will be proposed and undertaken by the United States at Geneva this month, it was learned today.

The advisory committee of the League of Nations on the narcotic question will meet in Geneva on May 24. An American delegation will attend in a "consultative capacity" and will, it is understood, formally broach the subject of an international convention.

Secretary of State Hughes has highly commended the Porter resolution and declared "it should be made the subject of an international convention. In a communication despatched to the Dutch government on narcotics control, the American position on dope control was thus outlined:

Much Smuggling

"The principal difficulty facing the administration of the narcotic laws has been the persistent smuggling of all forms of narcotics from foreign countries. It is the opinion of those familiar with the administration of the laws that most of the narcotics surreptitiously sold in the United States are smuggled. The control of the manufacture and sale within the United States appears to be very effective and it is thought there is very little leakage from the legitimate to the illegitimate channels of distribution. There is no doubt, however, that large quantities of narcotics are smuggled into the country."

Choice Not Made

Great care is being exercised by Secretary Hughes in the selection of delegates to represent the United States in Geneva on May 24. In response to inquiries today it was said a choice had not yet been made. Persistent reports, however, are that Dr. Ruppert Blue, who represented the United States at the meeting of the advisory committee last February, Charles E. Brent of New York, who participated in The Hague opium conference, and Edwin L. Neville, of the far eastern divi-

Glendale Rebekahs Prepare Sewing Exhibit for Grand Assembly

Carnation Rebekah lodge members of Glendale are to be represented next week at the grand assembly in San Francisco by Mrs. John Strother, district deputy president-elect, and by Mrs. L. G. Seavern. The assembly opens May 8.

A consignment of sewing done by the local Rebekahs of the Rebekah Afternoon club is to be sent to the northern gathering. Final work on the sewing will be done at the club meeting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Coglin of 425 West Hawthorne street.

At the regular lodge meeting last night in the I. O. O. F. hall, nominations were made for officers for the new year. Nominations will be made at the next meeting, also, and the election will be held May 15.

Will Buy Regalia

Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, noble grand, her officers and members are greatly gratified over the success of the recent anniversary celebration and the compliments received from guests in Glendale on that occasion.

Plans were made for the dance affair Friday night, to be featured by a hair fashion revue, arranged by Mrs. Laura Walcott of the Walcott Beauty Parlors. Proceeds from the affair are to go to buy regalia for the lodge officers.

Glee Club Will Give Concert Friday Night

A concert by the Men's Glee Club of the Los Angeles Bible Institute is announced for Friday night at the Tropic Presbyterian church at Central avenue and Laurel street. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock. The eighteen members of the club will give vocal, piano, violin and flute numbers.

selection of the state department will comprise the delegation. These men are thoroughly familiar with all phases of the drug menace. Dr. Blue, following last February's meeting, filed with the department a detailed report of the proceedings of the advisory committee, which later was held to be confidential and withheld from the press. This report, it is understood, was of a startling nature.

By GEORGE E. DURNO,
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, May 2.—One of the first complete art collections from the recent Washington arms conference is now on exhibition here at the Corcoran National Art Gallery.

The collection, the work of Walter Tittle, of Springfield, Ohio, is drawing wide spread-praise from art critics, and is generally regarded as being of great historical value. It includes the portraits in dry-point of the twenty-seven leading figures in the world parley from which came the first great steps toward international disarmament.

President Harding tops the portfolio, two etchings—a profile and a full-face—having been made of the chief executive. For this work the artist has received high personal praise from the president, to whom has been tendered a complete set of the portraits.

Other faces in Tittle's collection include Lloyd George, Arthur Balfour, Admiral Lord Kato, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Aristide Briand, Dr. Sze, Senator Carlo Schanzler, Elihu Root, Marshal Foch, Prince Tokugawa, Sir Auckland Geddes, Admiral de Bon, Secretary of State Hughes, Lord Riddell, the Marquis Visconti Venosta, Earl Beatty, the Earl of Cavan, Albert Sarraut, Fournier Sarlovez, Sir Maurice Hankey and Sir Robert Borden.

All of the portraits were made from personal sittings and are regarded as strikingly faithful likenesses. They are etchings done on copper.

Walter Tittle was born in Springfield, Ohio. He studied in New York under William M. Chase and Robert Henri. During his earlier career he devoted himself to illustrating work for prominent magazines, here and abroad, at the same time painting portraits and other pictures in oils.

Later he abandoned illustration for portraiture in oils and dry point. His first exhibition of dry points was held in the Art Institute of Chicago, in 1918, and of the many held since then, one took place last October at the Leicester Galleries, in London, when the British museum acquired twenty-four of his prints for its permanent collection. Numerous examples are also owned by American museums.

Supplementing the Arms conference collection, Tittle is displaying a portfolio of lithographs, done in chalk on stone, of famous English writers, made during his recent stay abroad. In this collection is included Sir Hall Caine, author of "The Manxman" and other works; Sir Oliver Lodge, well known spiritualist; A. S. Hutchinson, author of "If Winter Comes"; Sir Rider Haggard, Maurice Hewlett, Walter de la Mare and others.

Princess Weds Commoner

Princess Yolanda and Count Calvi de Bergola leaving the Quirinal after the ceremony.

Princess Yolanda, most beloved of Italy's royal family, is now honeymooning with her commoner husband, Count Calvi de Bergola, to whom she was married a couple of weeks ago. The wedding was the first in which a member of the royal family has been concerned in many years. Mammoth crowds turned out to witness the wedding ceremonies.

Constant rumors before the princess' engagement to the count was announced had her engaged to a dozen or more young noblemen of half a dozen European countries. Her heart, however, was won by one of her own countrymen.

SOURCES OF ELECTROMOTIVE FORCE

There are a number of ways in which electric energy can be derived from other sources of energy. Each one of these energy transformations sets up a condition which causes current to flow—that is, produce an electromotive force. The two most important methods for producing electrical energy are "static" and "frictional" electricity, which means by "chemical action."

We will first discuss "static" or "frictional" electricity. When a piece of hard rubber is brought in close contact with a piece of, say, cat's fur, and then separated from it, two things will be noticed:

1. The bodies have both acquired new properties and are said to be electrified.

2. A force is required to separate the bodies and work is done if they are moved apart.

Both bodies now have the power of attracting light bits of chaff or tissue paper. The rubber is said to have a negative charge and the fur a positive charge. These charges exist in equal amounts, and taken together they neutralize each other. An unchanged body is said to be neutral. When these charges are on rest upon conductors they are called electrostatic charges.

Electric charges may be communicated to light bodies, like pith balls, and if these are suspended from silk threads the effects and properties of the charges may be studied in terms of the motion and behavior of the pith balls.

Two pith balls charged oppositely are found to attract each other, and two with like charges repel each other. She force between them in either case is proportional to the amount of charge to manipulate. Of course that is a question of personal adjustment as the principle of the detector, whether horizontal or perpendicular, is the same. The particular detector is well made and adapts itself to most of the crystals worth while.

portional to the product of the charges and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between them. The force is also proportional directly to the value of the dielectric constant.

If two bodies carrying opposite charges are connected by a conductor a momentary flow of current takes place, and the two bodies come to the same electrical condition. If the original charges were equal both bodies would be discharged.

Electrostatic experiments can be best performed on a cold day when the air is dry.

Use Human Bones to Make Buddha Statue

TOKIO, May 2.—A statue of Buddha made from 1,350 pieces of human bones will soon be set in place in the Bone Buddha hall of the Chosan temple in Fukagawa prefecture, according to a local Tokyo newspaper. The statue is three feet six and one-half inches in height and is molded from the pulverized human bones. The Japanese who molded it spent over a year in his work.

The bones used in the new Buddha are those consecrated to the temple by poor families in the neighborhood after the bodies of their relatives had been cremated. They were given to the temple by the families of the deceased, who felt that the privilege of fitting burial services were enough for them to give in return the bones of their departed relatives. Those who contributed the bones were all too poor to pay for a temple funeral service. The bones have been accumulating in the temple property for years.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

"Good morning, Mrs. Little-tail!" greeted Uncle Wiggily one day as he hopped past the house where the rabbit lady lived. "Is Susie ready to go to school?" went on Mr. Longears. "If she is she may hop along with me, as I am going past the Hollow Stump."

"Listen!" advised Mrs. Little-tail.

Uncle Wiggily listened and he heard a tinkle-inkle-inkle sound like music.

"That's Susie practicing her piano lesson," went on the rabbit lady. "She will have finished in a few minutes—if you can wait for her, and I know she will be delighted to hop to school with you."

"I'll wait," kindly offered Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose in time to Susie's practice—dum-diddle-iddle—dum diddle-dee!

The little rabbit girl practiced well, for she wanted to play her piece correctly when Mrs. Song Sparrow, the music teacher, came on Saturday.

"That is very good music," thought Uncle Wiggily, and he began to jiggle one leg up and down. Then, as Susie played faster his other leg began to jiggle.

Then his ears twitched, his nose twinkled like a star and his little tail started moving up and down. "I feel so jolly I think I'll dance!" cried Uncle Wiggily, and he did. He just couldn't keep still when he heard Susie's music. And he had hardly finished jiggle-when the little rabbit girl came skipping out on the porch.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! I didn't know you were here!" exclaimed Susie.

"I suppose your mother didn't tell you, as she didn't want to stop your practice," said the bunny uncle. "That was right, Susie. You must practice a lot if you are to play the piano well. And now for school!"

Together the bunny rabbit gentleman and Susie hopped along the greenwood path until they reached the hollow stump school, where the Lady Mouse taught the animal children their lessons.

"If you'd like to hear me play again, Uncle Wiggily," said Susie, "come around this afternoon. I'm going to practice more."

"I will," promised the rabbit gentleman, and he did. For he could find no adventures that day.

Not once did the Fox or Wolf chase him, nor did the Skilly Scallery Alligator try to nibble his ears.

"But," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, "Susie's music practice made me feel so jolly, and helped my rheumatism so much, that I think I'll listen to her again this afternoon."

So when school was out, once more the bunny gentleman hopped to Susie's home and sat on the porch while she practiced.

"Tinkle-inkle-dinkle. Winkle-binkle-binkle. Squinkle-winkle-kinkle. Twinkle-inkle-twinkle!"

This was the tune Susie played. Uncle Wiggily was sort of jigging all over—even his tail twitching sideways—and he was getting ready to dance as he sat on the porch when, all of a sudden, out from the bushes popped the Skilly Scallery Alligator with humps on his tail.

"Ah, ha! Now I have you! Now for your ears!" gurgled the "Gator."

He clasped Uncle Wiggily in his scaly paws, the Alligator did, but just then Susie began to practice faster and faster. And she played such jolly music that Uncle Wiggily couldn't help dancing. Away he went in a waltz, one-step, and fox trot all in one.

"Here! What are you doing? Where are you going?" cried the Alligator. For when Uncle Wiggily danced around, the "Gator" had to likewise follow. "What are you doing?" shouted the "Gator."

"Oh, just dancing for my rheumatism," laughed Uncle Wiggily. And then, before he knew it, the Alligator himself was dancing. Really one couldn't help it when Susie played those jolly tunes.

Faster and faster the little rabbit girl played the piano. Faster and faster danced the Alligator until he went so fast that he had to let go of the bunny gentleman. "Ha! Ha! Now let's see you nibble my ears!" cried Uncle Wiggily, and into Susie's house he popped, locking the door after him.

"What's the matter?" cried Susie.

"The Alligator had me, but I danced away from him!" laughed Mr. Longears. And the "Gator" was so out of breath from his dancing (not being accustomed to it) that he didn't try to break down the door. And soon he crawled off in the woods and the bunny could go home.

But it is a good thing Susie practiced her music lesson; wasn't it? Yes, I think so myself. And if the milk pitcher doesn't take the orange marmalade down in the salt cellar and pour lemon juice in it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Tippy Tumble's molasses.

BETTER DEFENSE OF CANAL URGED

Airplanes Only Adequate Way to Protect Panama, Says Legion Chief

For International News Service
INDIANAPOLIS, May 2.—The Panama Canal is the Achilles' heel of America.

This is the observation of Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, who recently returned from Panama, where he witnessed the maneuvers of the United States fleet in Panamanian waters.

While making its seaboard comparatively safe with a strong navy and powerful coast defenses, the United States has left vulnerable the outstanding danger point in national defense—the Panama Canal. The American Legion, through its national legislative committee, will work for the better defense of the canal, he said.

Change In Methods
"We built at Panama the most powerful defense known when we completed the canal, but we have since had a world war," the Legion commander stated. "Larger guns have been developed until we now have ships with guns more powerful than those of the canal defenses, and we know other nations possess them. Hostile warships could shell the fortified island that guards the Pacific entrance, steam close to shore and bombard the canal locks."

"The canal is most vulnerable from the air," Owsley stated. "The fleet demonstrated conclusively in its sham attack that the canal could not be successfully defended against aerial attack. Attacking planes flew over the vital locks and could have bombed them at will."

"The only way to fight airplanes is from the air," he continued, and he advocated the establishment of airplane bases within the zone, with fighting planes and fighting pilots ready to take the air at a moment's warning in defense of the canal."

Making the air forces a separate branch of the service like the army and the navy was urged by Owsley.

Yangtze river in China has been known in recent times to rise fifty-eight feet in one week and drop sixty-eight feet in less than three weeks.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

That old time star George Van Haltron was in a talkative baseball mood when a gallery of fans found him recently. Naturally he was wanted to know Van Haltron's opinion on various players and he was specifically asked "How does Willie Kamm compare with Jimmy Collins?"

"I don't think it fair to compare the two," said Van Haltron. "Kamm is a wonderful ball player. Collins was an artist. It was pretty near impossible to beat out a ball on Collins. I was a pretty good hunter in my day, but try as I did, I never succeeded in hunting one and beating it out. Collins was on the job. Lots of times he was playing deep and thought he was sound asleep for a while, but he always managed to get there when you bunted and was on the job."

"Collins moved like a cat. He was on the ball before you realized it. Kamm also moves fast, but he takes his strides. Collins' set was his wonderful legs; Kamm is built more from his body up. Kamm is the best I have seen in a long time, but I really don't think it fair to compare him with Collins."

The same fans were commenting on the showing being made by O'Connell with McGraw's team. They figure that there is something wrong with O'Connell. In that the strict discipline of McGraw is being found different to the treatment he received in the Coast League. That O'Connell has been benched for Casey Stengel is the reason for the above belief by the coast fans.

Certain fans on the Coast maintain that O'Connell was petted and pampered from the day he signed his first contract with San Francisco. These people contend that O'Connell thereby gained the idea that he did not have to hustle and that if he did not get his hits today he would get them tomorrow. McGraw, they point out, will not let him as it is known that Mr. McGraw rules with an iron hand. He believes in driving and not cajoling, and the fact that he paid a fortune for O'Connell will mean nothing to him if O'Connell does not deliver the goods. He replaced O'Connell with Stengel who cost him little or nothing and who was supposed to be through.

The batting of young Valla in the San Francisco team of the Coast League is attracting the eye of the fans. To date he has played in twenty games since the season opened and has registered one or more hits in every game. His average up to last Friday showed 87 times at bat, 13 runs and 35 hits for .402 per cent. This is a great consecutive run of hits for the opening of the season.

The batting of Valla recalls the work of Jack Noss with Oakland some years ago when he set a consecutive hit record of hitting safe in 59 straight games. This was later broken by Wilhoit in the Western association with 67 straight which is the minor league record today.

LOCALS TO MEET FERNANDO SQUAD

Team Journeys to Valley Town Next Sunday for League Contest

The Glendale ball team journeyed to San Fernando Sunday afternoon to meet the league nine representing that city, in the fourth official contest of the series. As the San Fernando team is composed of real stars, including the Cruz brothers, who have had try-outs with the Chicago Cubs, Manager Walt Heidler feels that his boys will have to step on the gas to win—but he is fully confident that they can bring home the bacon and make it four straight.

As Sunday will mark the first appearance of the Glendale boys in their new uniforms, it is felt that a large delegation of local fans will make the journey. These uniforms were made possible by the joint efforts of local business men and the city council, the merchants donating close to $200 and the "City Fathers" $100. As the total cost of the uniforms was $225, explains Manager Heidler, the balance of the money will go for other needed equipment.

With the team now properly outfitted and full of the desire to repay the kindness of the donors by continuing to play winning ball, it begins to look as if that Valley league pennant would wave over this city some bright and happy day in the early fall.

Manager Heidler wants to explain to the people of Glendale why his team has to play its games on Sunday afternoons, rather than on week days or in the early evenings.

"Every man on my team works hard every day," says Walt, "none of the players using either idle or retired. We are just plain folks, such as concrete mixers, pick and shovel laborers, machinists or 'grease hounds,' had carriers and truck drivers, who work nine and ten hours every day, including Saturdays.

"Now, by the time a fellow gets out at 5 or 6 o'clock in the afternoon, gets home and gets the grease and grime dug out of his hands and hair and eyes, and gets into a ball uniform, it is dark. So we have to play on Sunday. The one day of the week when we have a little time for recreation and fun."

Go to Church
"This is our motto, and we think it a good one—'Go to church if you like, Sunday morning. Go to the ball game in the afternoon, if you care to. And at night, if you want, go to church again.' And, furthermore, every member of our team is a gentleman, and has pledged his team-mates to keep that way."

The standing of the clubs in the San Fernando Valley league, to date, is as follows:

TAGGING ALL BASES

The Yanks blowing themselves to another uprising, this time in the seventh, at the expense of Zachary and Russell, and scored six runs, beating the Senators 8 to 7. Babe Ruth stole home with the tying run.

Cyrus, the elongated Williams, smote two home runs, a double and a single, but all in vain. Paying no attention to Cyrus, the Braves took a running jump into a pair of Philly pitchers and won, 12 to 10.

The White Sox finally obliged by winning a ball game. Leverette holding the Browns until the ninth. Score 5 to 3. In the final inning, Williams socked his fifth homer of the season, scoring Tobin in front of him.

Coming from behind, after the Athletics had scored four runs, the Red Sox pulled out a 5 to 4 victory. Ehmkke fanned ten men, three of them in the ninth after Heimach and Perkins had opened.

That 200,000,000 people is all that continental United States can accommodate is the opinion of an expert.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"Trailing African Wild Animals," a Martin Johnson scenic, is a film that will appeal to young and old alike, in the opinion of Manager William Howe. Thousands of animals are depicted, animals that never could be seen inside a zoo or circus tent, animals in their wild native haunts. It is, perhaps, the greatest cinematographer in the business, having traveled practically all over the world with a camera, "shooting" animals, but not harming them.

Mr. Johnson was one of the party who, with Jack London, journeyed half around the world in a tiny motor launch. The record of that voyage has been immortalized in the book, "The Cruise of the Snark."

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

There is at least one sports editor who thinks that Jack Dempsey today could take on Johnson, Willard and Fulton in one evening and dispose of them one at a time. The probabilities are that there are many more who think the same way. At all events, it now goes up to Johnson and Willard to come to a decision. Whichever one of these wins is slated to be the next opponent for Dempsey. Likewise whichever one wins, it is an immortal cinch that the promoter of the final fight will never have the temerity or the gall to call "the fight of the century," as was done in the Dempsey-Carpenter battle, which turned out a most unequal contest.

Announcement that the ban George von Elm, the Salt Lake City golfer, would be lifted on September 1 was received with jubilation by followers of golf, who explored the fact that it was necessary to discipline this player, as is a valuable acquisition to any championship tournament. Von Elm is considered by many critics to be the amateur who possesses to the greatest degree the style and poise of the professional player, and there are few more brilliant players either among the amateurs or the professionals.

There seems to be little question that the eight carved crew of the University of Washington is as fast this year as it was last year. So, unless there is a crew entered in the Poughkeepsie race this year that is as fast as last year's Navy crew, the Washingtonians will have a good chance of gathering in the first honors. In the event that this happens it will be the first time in the history of intercollegiate rowing that a Pacific Coast crew has accomplished this difficult task. There is no question that the Poughkeepsie title has an excellent chance of being transferred to the state of Washington.

There is a lot of criticism, pro and con, regarding the action of Charlie Paddock, the sprinter, who has practically told the Amateur Athletic Union that he will do as he pleases in the face of the A. A. U. action in refusing its sanction for him to compete in Europe. All American athletes have been asked not to compete abroad until next year at the Olympics and thus far, Paddock is the only man who has told the A. A. U. to mind its own business. According to the reports the officials put up to Paddock in the light of a "patriotic" thing to obey. Paddock laughed. Why they should go out of their way to find a reason is not apparent. It was a ruling and there is either to be discipline maintained, or the A. A. U. is a self acknowledged incompetent to keep order in its house.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 2.—While we are not exactly enamored of Ban Johnson's proposed zoning system for regulating baseball games, it has become apparent that something the kind would not be amiss at a few of the major league parks, in particular reference to the bs, remodeled plant on the north side of Chicago. There are more than eighteen home runs made during the first four games of the playing season, and that is baseball, then friend cage is odorless.

Before the extra seats were installed the Cub park was small enough. Now, it must be impossible, or, at least, highly improbable. Otherwise, ordinary fans would not be making as many as two home runs a day. Connie Mack has had the idea of baseball at heart in erecting screens in front of the left bleachers at Shibe Park, Philadelphia, and unless the club management cares to have its park become the joke of the circuit it will follow this example. It had no ulterior motive in closing the screens in position; fact, those bleachers were an itching target for Tillie Walker, Bing Miller, a pair of Mr. Walker's outfielders, during the 22 season. However, the Philadelphia leader now has the satisfaction of putting an end to those k homers that cleared the low field barrier on the first and in the second round.

at Shibe Park. However, we have ceased to look for reform from the Phillies, who have lost as many games as they have won through slumps and smashes not only into the bleachers but also beyond the very adjacent right-field wall.

In 1915, for example, they installed extra seats in centerfield for the world's series, with the idea of giving Cactus Cravath a chance to pop a few in there in the pinches. Instead, however, Harry Hooper and Duffy Lewis readily found the range, and Cravath never delivered.

Even the new Yankee stadium has its "home run pocket," the same being a space between the grandstand and the bleachers at the end of the right field foul line. Howard Shanks tapped one in there some days ago, and in consequence what should have been the most harmless of put outs went down in the record as a home run, equal in value with the longest drive Ruth ever made.

CLOSE THEIR DOORS.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 2.—Several employment offices catering to loggers and mill hands have closed their doors when alleged I. W. W.'s threatened to deface and tear down employment bulletin boards if the establishments remained open. Action by employers was taken to forestall possible trouble. Police reported everything quiet and predicted that Portland would be without May day disturbances of any consequence.

YANKEE STAR IN HEROS' GALLERY

Everett Scott Will Play in 1000th Ball Game at Washington Today

By GEORGE BARRY
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, May 2.—A new "iron man" of baseball stepped into sportsdom's hall of fame today, hung up his hat and allowed that it would be a permanent residence in that most sought gallery. He was Everett Scott, a silent youth from Indiana, shortstop for the New York Yankees. This afternoon, at the Georgia avenue ball park he will engage in his 1,000th consecutive big league ball game—almost three solid years of day-by-day playing. How extraordinary is his record may be judged from the fact that the previous record for consecutive big league play was held by Fred Luderus, of the Phillies and Cardinals. He played in only 551 games.

U. S. navy, the American league, his own club, and thousands of fans will join in paying tribute to "Scotty" this afternoon, in recognition of his long and faithful services.

Secretary of the Navy Denby will present the Hoosier with a gold medal designed particularly for the occasion, on behalf of the American league, in whose service Scott has established his remarkable record.

American Golfers in Stiff British Test

SANDWICH, Eng., May 2.—American amateur golfers get their first real test of skill and endurance in England today and tomorrow. The Americans are competing in 36 hole medal play for St. George's challenge cup and are pitted against more than 100 of the best amateur players in Great Britain.

Jack Neville of San Francisco, turned in a card of 83 for the first 18 holes. His score, the first to be made by an American contestant, was disappointing.

Dr. O. P. Willing, of Portland, Ore., negotiated the course in 74. His was the best score turned in up to 4 o'clock.

EAGLE ROCK

C. OF C. BANQUET PROVES INSPIRING

Workers Receive Plenty of Enthusiasm; Out For More Members

"A most successful and enthusiastic gathering" was the verdict passed upon last night's banquet of Chamber of Commerce leaders and charter members, held at the Women's Twentieth Century club-house, Eagle Rock, at 6:30 o'clock.

"We have every reason to be gratified over the response to this affair," states O. J. Root, president of the chamber. "The large number who turned out and heard the fine, inspiring speeches were one and all convinced that with proper support Eagle Rock can have an active and powerful Chamber of Commerce. It is the beginning of a new era in the commercial life of this community."

Ben H. Schouboe, campaign director, was no less enthusiastic than Mr. Root in his appreciation of the manner in which the citizens are getting behind this movement, saying that with the material progress already made the enrollment of 350 members should follow along very rapidly. "All the leaders now know just exactly their spheres of action, full details having been consummated and plans all made to get not only the requisite membership but the $3,000 service fund adopted as the goal of our endeavor."

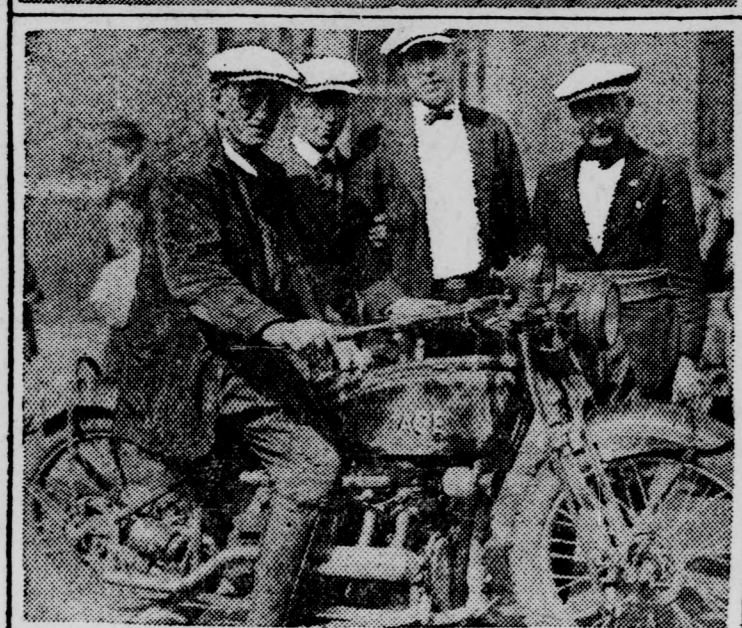

Determined Workers

"We went out this morning 100 per cent strong, after listening to those inspiring speeches last night from men very familiar with chamber activities, and we are determined to accomplish for Eagle Rock what has been accomplished in many communities where the conditions were far less favorable."

The principal speaker at last night's banquet was George A. Green, president of the Vermont Avenue Improvement Association, Los Angeles, and a director of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce. From his wide experience with matters concerning the commercial life of communities, Mr. Green told the members of the Eagle Rock body and their friends that the most important step for any forward-looking community to take is to unite its various business interests under one banner—and that banner should be the Chamber of Commerce.

It would be all right for various other organizations to exist in a community, was Mr. Green's argument, but they should all be secondary in importance to the

Sixty-One Trips Across U. S. Get Vet in Trim for Record

"Cannon Ball" Baker, "Hitting 'er Up" Across the Plains, and Ready for Another Jaunt After a Meal

NEW YORK, April 26.—It is expected that this spring will again see "Cannon Ball" Baker make a drive to beat the transcontinental motorcycle record and thus negotiate his sixty-second trip from coast to coast. Last fall Baker, in the most thrilling and sensational long distance motorcycle race ever held in the history of the sport, established a transcontinental record of six days, 22 hours and 24 minutes off the old record held by Alan T. Bedell in 1917. Riding for over six days, continuously night and day over some of the roughest roads in the country and through adverse weather conditions at chamber, for this is the one body that can really represent the commercial will of the community in any matter.

Another impressive speaker at last night's banquet was George W. Bunton, secretary of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, who gave the recipe for putting over a successful chamber of commerce and told how they had done it in Van Nuys.

J. A. Lewis of Highland Park, president of the Los Angeles Song Leaders' Association, entertained the gathering with a repetition of some of the hit repertoire that proved such a hit a week ago, at the smoker.

Building Permits Brisk

April was a record month for Eagle Rock in building permits, the total for the month being $210,315, making the total this year, to date, $688,099. Should this average be maintained for the balance of the year, this community would have spent over $2,000,000 on building during 1923. But those in touch with the situation agree that some of the big construction projects looming on the near horizon will greatly swell this total.

One of the gayest dances of the season is scheduled for Saturday night, May 5, at the American Legion hall. The affair will be in the nature of a May party, but those in touch with the situation agree that some of the big construction projects looming on the near horizon will greatly swell this total.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Arnold, formerly of Eagle Rock, are now living in Burbank, where they have purchased a home at 232 Grismer avenue.

Youthful Artists Win Contest Prizes

The artists' contest that was conducted by The Evening News in its issue of Tuesday, April 24, has brought to light a large number of children under 12 years of age who have shown marked artistic talent and whose coloring of the various pictures shown on the contest page have been worthy of the highest commendation by The News to judge the various entries and to award the prizes.

The first prize goes to Adele Loyd, 3519 Casitas avenue, Los Angeles, who wins $5; the second to Eleanor Guenther, 112 West Elk street, Glendale, $2.50; the third to Bernice Guenther, a sister of Eleanor, $1.75. Book of the Little Pepper series; while the pages sent in by Irene Nickel, 716 North Isabel, and Marjorie Ratcliff, 297 West Livingston, have shown so much merit that the management of The Evening News has decided to add an extra prize in each case, and these little girls will attend the Glendale theatre as the guests of this paper.

Old Mother Hubbard will be the presiding spirit at the September booth in charge of Mrs. W. F. MacPherson. Cooked food of all kinds, such as has made Tuesday afternoon club food sales so popular, will be on sale at this booth.

Fishing Season Opens

Fishing in the fish pond is to be the chief sport at the October booth planned by Mrs. P. M. Peckham. Other features will be two professional fortune tellers.

BURBANK

OFFER MANY LOTS TO BURBANK FOLK

Many Subdivisions Put on Market; Baptist Church To Be Dedicated

More than forty subdivisions, representing approximately 450 acres, have been offered to the citizens of Burbank and vicinity in the last year, it was disclosed at the board of trustees of the city at a recent meeting.

Several plats lying in Los Angeles county, outside the city limits, have also been approved in the period from April, 1922, to April 1923. And since April 1 of this year, two more subdivisions have been opened up, representing eighteen additional acres.

Allowing the average of four lots to the acre, this means that in the last twelve months—or, to be exact, thirteen months—2000 lots have been made available for home and business sites.

The fact that a large number of these lots have already been sold is attested by the number of store, office and residence structures going up throughout the city.

If this rate of development were to continue, and allowing an average of as low as three persons per lot, it would mean that Burbank's population is increasing at the rate of 6000 per year.

To Dedicate New Church

The new Baptist church will be dedicated Sunday, May 13, which is also Mothers' Day, and noted ministers in the denomination will be in Burbank for the occasion, among them Dr. W. F. Harper, state secretary of the Southern California Baptist convention, and Rev. Edwin Brown of Los Angeles, superintendent of Baptist Mexican work of the Pacific coast.

During the week following the dedication, there will be several special services at the new house of worship, with both local and out-of-town speakers and musicians, Rev. Main and the church members putting forth a great effort to make it a week of rare pleasure and consecration.

The cost of the new church is given as in excess of $10,000, which amount has come from voluntary subscriptions from local members and contributions throughout the denomination at large.

Ten class rooms and an auditorium thirty by thirty-six feet are contained in the building, most of the class rooms arranged so they can be opened into the main auditorium, which will accommodate the pupil and a double choir, and at the rear is a baptismal font fitted with an electric illumination system calculated to shed a rose-colored light over the waters during the baptism.

The windows of the new church are at the present time of plain glass, but it is planned to change them for panes of amber glass. Each Sunday school room is equipped with a separate blackboard and other class conveniences usually found only in grade schools. The entire edifice is to be fitted with an indirect lighting system.

The building committee comprises C. B. Fitzsimmons, Frank Caldwell and George Courtney. It is to this committee, with the able assistance of Rev. Main, that the parishioners owe the artistic, efficient structure they are soon to make use of, not only Sundays, but it is believed, many week days as well.
